JOHN BROWN HOUSE, 1786

Home of
Rhode Island Historical Society
52 POWER STREET
Providence 6, Rhode Island

Open to the Public

WILLIAM G. ROELKER
Director

CLIFFORD P. MONAHON
Librarian

John Brown House

... home of the Rhode Island Historical Society, was built by John, third of the famous "Four Brown Brothers" (Nicholas, Joseph, John, and Moses), merchants of Providence. Joseph, professor of natural philosophy at Rhode Island College (now Brown University), designed the house in the Federal style, but died before the work was commenced in 1786.

The original house was 54 by 50 feet, three stories and attic, with four rooms on a floor, divided by a wide hall running north and south through the center. The ends of the heavy oak beams are embedded in massive brick walls, even the interior partitions being of solid brick.

The house has ever been of historic interest. As early as 1789 Mrs. Abigail Adams, wife of

WEST ENTRANCE

The Museum

Three rooms of the first floor in the ell contain the Society's collection of museum objects, which have been gathered since the incorporation of the Society in 1822. Care is taken to exhibit only items that are concerned with Rhode Island people and places. Included in the many objects of antiquity from the days of the Indians down to the present time are a fine collection of Rhode Island pewter, Staffordshire and Chinese export porcelain, Sandwich glass, miniatures, samplers, and paintings. Special exhibitions are held frequently.

Vice-President John Adams, dined with the Browns while journeying from Braintree to New York. Her son, John Quincy Adams, sixth President, wrote in his journal September 9, 1789, concerning the house: "We only saw the outside of it, which is the most magnificent and elegant private mansion that I have ever seen on this continent." In 1790 Washington was entertained by his admirer, John Brown, who named in his honor several ships and the bridge he built to Seekonk (East Providence).

The ell, which at present houses the museum on the first floor, was built at a later date. Originally there were several detached buildings: woodshed, bath house, stables, and coach house.

Several architectural features of the house set a precedent for many of the domiciles built in Providence later on: the four chimneys rather than two, the slight projection, crowned by a pediment, in the center of the facade, with the open entrance porch set in the projection; and the Palladian window over the entrance.

The central hallway is decorated with a heavy cornice and deep frieze, with carving in relief. Mahogany is used for the baseboards, chair rail, doors, and the dominating stair case with its twisted balusters and ramped rail. There is a shadow rail at the left and a small piece of ivory in the newel, known as the "peace point," signifying that satisfaction had been reached by the owner and the builder. Variety is the keynote, as exemplified in the carving and the scroll, open, and broken pediments over the doorways. Tradition says that the marble busts in the hallway and drawing room, as well as those on the gateposts, were brought from France.

At the right of the front door is the former drawing room with the original dining room beyond, rooms in which the Society now holds its meetings. The ornamental ceilings are not original.

At the left is the morning room of Mrs. John Brown, whose portrait in oil hangs over the mantel. The mahogany secretary, reputedly was made for Joseph Brown, by the Goddards, famous Newport cabinetmakers of the eighteenth century. The portraits flanking it are a self-portrait of Robert Feke (ca. 1750), America's foremost artist prior to Copley, and his wife Eleanor (Cozzens) Feke.

The present dining room, formerly office of John Brown, is decorated with modern scenic wall paper, depicting Washington's inauguration in New York City (1789).

The rooms on the second and third floors are occupied by the library.

NORTHEAST PARLOR

The Library

THE library contains one of the largest genealogical collections in New England. In the field of Rhode Island history the Society's printed material is unequalled. There is also abundant material on the other New England states and the country at large. The Society's collection of Rhode Island imprints, the most complete in existence, is of particular value to students of bibliography. It begins with items printed by James Franklin in 1728. Equally outstanding is the collection of Rhode Island newspapers. The file of the Providence Gazette, beginning in 1762, is complete except for four issues.

Among the thousands of manuscripts in the library are several collections of particular value to students. They form but a small part of the manuscript source material and are listed merely to give an idea of the Society's holdings. In the field of business history are the Almy and Brown papers, the earliest records of an American textile manufactory, and the papers of the Builders Iron Foundry; the Nightingale-Jenckes papers, the Champlin papers, and the Obadiah Brown papers, are all largely concerned with Rhode Island's oversea trade in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries. On this same subject are the Custom House papers, (1790-1894). For the searchers in legal history there are the Richard W. and Albert C. Greene papers, and the Thomas A. Jenckes collection. The Foster papers, the Ward papers, and the Hopkins papers are rich in source material of the eighteenth century. The Peck papers, the Rhode Island Historical manuscripts, the Shepley Library, and the Moses Brown papers contain miscellaneous but important documents.

History and Purpose

The Rhode Island Historical Society is the fifth of its kind to be founded in the United States. Incorporated in 1822, its object has been "to procure and preserve whatever relates . . . to the history of the State of Rhode Island." Without a building of its own for the first few years of its existence, the Society was finally located in the Cabinet (1844) at 68 Waterman Street, designed by James C. Bucklin, an eminent Rhode Island builder. It continued to occupy this building for nearly a hundred years until 1942, when it removed to John Brown House, its present permanent home, the generous gift of John Nicholas Brown.

Several organizations, such as the Roger Williams Family Association, the Society of the Cincinnati, the Sons of the American Revolution, and the Mayflower Society hold meetings in John Brown House. This is in keeping with the Society's policy of making its headquarters available to the citizens of the state who are interested in the historical development of Rhode Island. Many visitors, including students and researchers, avail themselves of the Rhode Island Historical Society's resources. Persons recommended by a member of the Society will be cordially received as new members.

WILLIAM H DAVY for

William H Davy was born in Bath, Ontario, Canada, June 19, 1844, son of William H and Hannah Perry Davy, both of whom were descendants of United Empire Loyalists.

His father was a ship builder and merchant and owned farm lands. He attended the Academy at Bath, also at Whitby and the Bryant and Stratton Business College at Oswego, N.Y.

During the Civil War he went to Chicago, where he became acquainted with Potter Palmer, which resulted in a life-long friendship.

After the war Mr Davy returned to Canada until 1869, when he came again to the U.S. and located in Duluth, Minnesota where he, in partnership with Charles Caswell, opened the first photographic studio in that growing city.

Mr Davy was very popular with the Indians and with several other men tramped all over St Louis and the adjacent counties taking pictures.

He spent the winter of 1871 in Moorhead, then a tiny frontier town, and was so impressed with the future possibilities of that area that he returned in 1873 to establish permanent residence. He was member of a group of young men who formed the Red River Valley Congress devoted to the interests of the Red River territory.

During the first few years in Moorhead, he was book keeper and cashier for Brun& and Finkle Mercantile Co., later as a salesman. While he was employed there he was known as Moorhead's first banker. To him were entrusted large sums of money left for safety in the Company's large iron safe. Even early day gamblers left their holdings in his care.

He also served as local agent for the American Express Co. that handled mail and express by stage between Minneapolis and Fort Gary (now Winnipeg).

Later he was in the grocery business, also a dealer in grain, flour, building materials and fuel. After nine years in that business, he devoted his time to farm lands and other real estate.

For nearly 50 years he invested heavily in real estate, and owned considerable property in Moorhead, Duluth, North and South Dakota

He was Chairman of the Co. Commission for several years, served 2 terms as mayor, was President of the First National Bank of Moorhead, Chairman of the City Water and Light Comm., member of Charter Comm, and served as Postmaster for 2 years. He was one of 3 men who organized the Fergus Falls and Gt. Western Telephone Co, which built 13 exchanges and about 500 miles of telephone lines.

He gave the land on which St John's Church stands and most of the money for its construction and contributed generously to the support of that church. He also gave a large tract of land for a city park in Moorhead.

Mr Davy died in San Diego, Calif. on Dec. 27, 1936 at age of 92½. Interment at Greenwood Mausoleum in Greenwood Cemetery, San Diego. 13

DAVY

John Davy, a United Empire Loyalist, left the Mohawk Valley in New York State and settled on a large tract of land on the Bay of Quinte where Bath now stands, in 1785, such land being given to him by the Crown. He came from England and was of Welsh descent. He was a widower with two daughters; one was named Eve who married Lewis and after his death married Laird. I do not know who the other daughter married.

Catherine

November

John Davy was married ~~September~~ 22, 1787 to Sophia Hufnagel by the Church of England missionary John Langhorn. It was the first marriage recorded on the books of St. John's Church, Bath, and the first birth recorded was that of Peter Davy, their first child.

St. John's Church at Bath was the second English church built in Canada. In those days the churches were all called English, as that was the established church.

John Davy had a large family. The children married as follows:-

Peter married Aurelia Chapman from Rouse's Point, N.Y.

John married Fannie Woods

Benjamin F. married Cinderella Perry

George married Sarah Pringle

William H. married Hannah M. Perry

Margaret married Saba Murphy

Sophia married Ira Billings.

Elizabeth married John B. Miller, a southern gentleman.

When John Davy died, his land went to his two oldest boys, leaving nothing for the younger boys. His widow married Captain Moyers and took her family to Belleville where they lived in the old Moyers home that stood on the hill facing the River Moira, which was then called Moyers' Creek.

Captain Moyers died, and altho rich, his widow got nothing but a farm in Sydney on the 3rd Concession, about nine miles from Belleville.

When Capt. Moyers and Sophia Davy were married, the ceremony was not performed by an English Church Minister, and in time there was a law in Canada making such marriages illegal, therefore the widow Moyers could not inherit her third of the estate. The law was annulled years afterwards. While great grandfather Peter Perry was in Parliament, he was greatly interested in the legalizing of marriages performed outside of the English Church. Sophia Moyers' girls all married, but the boys were left homeless. John Maybee married Barbara Hufnagel and lived on the 2nd Concession of Sydney about 7 miles from Belleville. The boys had a home with him for a while. Sophia Moyers gave her farm to Sophia Billings, as she was poor. Ira Billings came from a fine family in Ottawa. He was educated for a doctor, but drink was his ruin. Sophia Moyers died on her Sydney farm and was buried in the old graveyard on the Bay of Quinte, near Trenton, about 1840. In the meantime Saba Murphy had established a business in Ovid, N.Y. He taught Benjamin the business of a general store. Then Benjamin returned to Canada and Benjamin married Cinderella Perry, January 20, 1834. About 1837 Benjamin left William in charge of the Bath store while he opened one at Napanee. Benjamin left George in charge of the Napanee store while he moved to Whitby and went in partnership with Peter Perry in a general store. After staying in Whitby two years Benjamin moved to Belleville where he opened a wholesale and retail store, packed pork for Gilmore's lumber camp on the Madawaska, and was also a heavy grain buyer and the first mayor of Belleville. He entered into rest March 6, 1860.

second 1860

George Davy was the first merchant in Napanee and owned the first grist mill on the Napanee River.

The Hufnagel family also came from the Mohawk Valley, but I do not know if they came at the same time as John Davy. These Loyalists gave up all their possessions and came into Canada poor, but loyal to their king.

Note by Marie E. Lowry. In the book Frontiersmen of New York, I found mention of a Thomas Davy who moved from Cherry Valley to Mohawk Valley before the Revolutionary War.

The above was copied about 15 years ago from an article on the Davys written by gr-aunt Cinderella Perry Davy some years before her life ended in 1901 at the age of 86. Either she did not know that John Davy had willed Benjamin and George 100 acres of land or for some reason the boys did not get it, but rest assured, Peter and John got their shares

Dear Peter:

As I'm making preparations for another eastern jaunt, busy getting things ready to have winding up correspondence, getting myself ready to go besides attending to the usual daily doze. I'm really "a busy woman". My stay in Canada will be shorter this year, as most of the time I'll be in New England. Unless plans change I'll be in Bath from 10 to 14 days during the first part of July. Any hope got the bond for perpetual care of the Perry flat matter settled while I am living. Original plans were to go via Quebec - N.B. & N.S. to Maine thence to Massachusetts etc. but all things considered, the long extra trip was not advisable, so I'll go direct from Montreal to Portland then down the coast. The trip by auto would be wonderfully interesting and I wish it were possible to go that way. Many New Englanders spend vacations in N. S. etc.

Last year I wrote Ray an incident in the lives of Peter & Pally Perry, which he said he would relay to you to include in your book. Perhaps the severe cold of the past winter gave you a chance to work on your book of legends. I have some interesting bits of New England legends and enjoy picking them up at odd times. The enclosed clippings may be of interest.

Both people can wake up and do things as well as people in the U.S.

Perhaps the name Canada ought to be changed - Wouldn't some Canucks be shocked? Oh My!
Roscoe - a community somewhere near Los Angeles has grown during the war years and the Council has petitioned the Court for permission to change the name, as Roscoe is an unsuccessful name ^{and} apt to retard development. Evidently a member of the Council is interested in Numerology.
I've never been there, but I plan to go sometime to see if the name change makes a difference. There is more truth than poetry in right names.

Changes are ahead of us, and we must adapt ourselves to them or be left sitting on the fence holding an empty sack. Now I must get to work - The clippings will keep you quiet for awhile.

Dorothy will be interested in the rug and the trippets - He had a very nice trippet. Mother gave it to the Salvation Army also an immense soup tureen of iron stone China

Dear Peter:

Well-well-well---the spirits finally decided it was time to move you to get busy and write to that Davy-Perry-Rogers-Jenks and desc. of a dozen other tribes, in California. Needless to say I was glad to receive your letter for you always say something that stirs me to action like looking thru my files, records, books, histories &c, &c. and incidentally to talk back.

Before you start reading this epistle from Lowry to Burleigh, eat your dinner, talk over the events of the day with Dorothy and the kiddies, read the evening paper then stretch out on the davenport, take a long breath before wading thru all the enclosed material-quite a long session.

Why be sorry that I brought up the matter of John and W.H.Davy? If I am in error I want to be corrected, and sometimes I do have the satisfaction of proving my point and correcting the other fellow. At the same time I detest arguments that "wear me out"

Thanks for the return of the Davy notes that David Valteau had sent to me several years ago. I was extra busy at the time and did not have a chance for more than a hasty glance before sending them to you.

~~DAVY b. 1751-d. 1808 opening the paper which seems to tie the line in with the paper 'JOHN'~~

This time on opening the paper I read at the top of the page JOHN DAVY b. 1751-d. May, 20, 1808 which seems to tie right in with your statements. The notes H.S.Davy father of Harry Davy of Toronto have a different date for John's birth. A short quotation follows:

" Thomas Davy, son of Thomas Davy of England with 2 sons, Thomas and Peter came with a Dutch Colony to Virginia in 1610. He never returned to England. A desc. Thomas Davy, later, an officer in the British Army settled in Herkimer Co. N.Y. (There is a record of Thomas Davy, wife and child in 1702 on the records of the Dutch Reformed Church of Schenectady, N.Y.)

Thomas Davy the British officer was in the old French War 1754-64 with his brothers Peter, George and Henry. From the brother Peter descends the Canadian line. Peter was born in 1720-

In 1883 my mother wrote to her niece Birdie Fairfield in Bath asking her to question Allen Lewis on what he knew of the Davy family. His answer was that John Davy's brothers names were Peter, Henry, Thomas, Michael. I still have the letter with his answer.

I copied the John Davy will from one Clara Davy Johnston had, in 1939, and the date of probate was not on it, and at that time I did not think of getting the date at the Registry Office to verify it, as I did in 1944 at your suggestion. After returning home I typed a new copy with the dates, then put it in the file and promptly forgot it, so when writing to you the first copy was before me. After reading your letter I found the later copy with the probate dates. Thanks for calling me on the carpet-I needed it.

Yes, I know William was not mentioned in his father's will because the will was made before he was born, then I began to ask questions, and was told that William was a posthumous child. Evidently none of those who I questioned had ever seen the will or if they had the probate date was omitted for I was told William was born in 1812. and John died in 1811.

Now then--as John Davy d. May, 20, 1808 and William was born Jan. 24, which was 8 months later, therefore William was conceived approximately a month before May, 20. 1808

After Birdie Fairfoeld Sundberg d. in San Diego in 1945, the Davy bible was given to me. It is an 1833 edition and grandpa had entered his own name in the birth column, but left a space for the date, perhaps he had was not sure of the year.

The largest part of John Davy's property went to Peter and John, but I wonder why Benjamin and George did not get the 100 acres that was left to them?

Aunt Cinderella says in her notes the younger boys got nothing, looks as tho Peter and John gobbled everything in sight.

Aunt Cinderella says further that that George and William had a home with John Maybe for a while.. It may not have been convenient for Maybe to keep both boys for an extended period, and Wetzel may have taken William.

I know cases where boys have been taken into a family and have assumed the foster parent's name, tho not adopted, and he probably staid there for some time after Capt. Moyers died and until Benjamin returned from Ovid, N.Y. AND LOOKED UP George and William to take them in business with him, after which William resumed his own name.

ONE THING I AM SURE OF AND THAT ISPETER AND POLLY PERRY WOULD NEVER HAVE ALLOWED THEIR PRECIOUS DAUGHTER TO MARRY WILLIAM IF THERE HAD BEEN ANY DOUBT AS TO HIS PATERNITY? NOR WOULD CINDERELLA HAVE RECOGNIZED HIM, IN FACT BOTH WILLIAM AND SOPHIA WOULD HAVE BEEN OSTRACIZED BY THE "WHOLE DAMN FAMILY"

If William is not John's son WHY did he have such a strong resemblance to the Davys and WHY did ng mother and Uncle Will also "look just like the Davys" I DO NOT NEED RECORDS TO PROVE MY POINT. I KNOW.

Mrs Hall is a desc. of Michael Davy and when she showed me a photo of he her father Albert Wilson Davy I noticed the close resemblance to my uncle W.H. Davy Jr. and when I returned to Bath 3 years later in 1942, I took a photo of Uncle Will to show Mrs Hall that the 2 men looked more like twins than second cousins. David had copied part of Capt. Moyers' will for me and also questioned me about the William H Wetzel-at that time I did not know how to answer him.

On account of the repetition of family names for generations the Davy family is hard to trace, and a strong characteristic has been -to avoid publicity.

So there the matter stands- To write everything would be too much of an effort, perhaps we will meet again some time then I can tell you.

Grandpa had some awful hard knocks in his life from others to whom he had been TOO GOOD, but I seem to be the only one left to put up a fight for him.

Is this a case of the woman having the last word?

Sept. 30
The last letter from Ray said he intended looking up the land record of the lot east of Dr Kennedy's house and that you said it had been in the Rogers family. Grandpa Rogers gave it to Uncle Charlie, who had a fence built around it to keep his cow from straying, as some of the Bath cows did. While building that fence-that was the time Mr Shepherd said

"Enery, Enery go down to 'Ostelton's and get some h'oak or h'ash to make an 'ammer 'andle" I witnessed the building of the fence.

So, I remind you of what Bath was or could be. Others in Bath have told me that I did not belong to California, that I belonged to Bath and ought to live there. I was in Massachusetts for the first time in 1938, went again in 1939 and 1946, and people were surprised to know my home was in California, they said I looked like a New Englander and tlike a resident of that particular town, same thing happened in Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Many persons here tell me I look like an easterner.

I never have liked the west any too well. I was away from Bath for more than 50 years. Some of the relatives could not understand WHY I wasted my time on that God forsaken hole. My visits to Canada were like a tonic and the same is true of Massachusetts.

Anthony Perry went to Rehoboth about 1641-43, his son Samuel, gr-son Jasiel, gr-grandson David, gr-gr-grandson Robert and their wives were all born and married in and around Rehoboth consequently I feel perfectly at home in and about Attleboro. After the Rev. the established families began to separate and scatter to other parts of the country, altho there are always some f families who stay in the same towns and houses. Then the other ancestors who joined the UEL trek to Ontario blazed the trails there so no wonder I feel perfectly at home there too.

The summer has been very hot; on days when the heat moderated somewhat, I HAD TO GET BUSY OUT DOORS DOING WORK FOR THE PRESENT AND FUTURE as I hope to take another trip next year. If I go via Canada my stay in Bath will be short. I have written Mr Walker three letters asking him to outline the procedure for buying a bond the interest of which I may pay for permanent care of the Perry-Davy plot, but in his answers he has told me and he knows I am anxious to have the matter settled while I am living. Help is so scarce that he has to do most of the work himself. I'll write once more then if he does not send the information, I'll have to try some one else.

So--you think you'd like a pen picture of me in your legends.

The only description that would fit me is a Mrs Jack of all trades-Yes, I have mastered some of those trades and professions. Any man or woman who has a home and family must be adept in many lines of work and play.

Have you ever read Mr Herrington's book Heroines of Canadian History?

I never thought of the book until after he died. I see an occasional Napanee Beaver, and after reading about his birthday (87th) I wrote to him.

As he died 3 days after his day the letter was not received until he had been gone two weeks. His daughter Mrs Sneath wrote me and said her father would have been so happy to have read the letter. She enclosed a write-up of him taken from another paper.

Pioneer life

In 1942 he consented to sell me one of his books ~~Life~~ among the Loyalists of Upper Canada, because I was interested. I refer to his L&A History very often. No doubt his Heroines is out of print, but he may have told me where a copy could be obtained. There are some errors in his history, but they are easily corrected, and if he had not made an effort to write such a history, one may never have been written. He realized the older generations were quickly passing out, taking their memories with them, so he got busy in the nick o' time.

And now David has also passed on. I wonder who will use his notes in another history. I thought of Crouse, but Ray said NO. Whoever uses them in a book I hope they will be handled with as much care as David would have given them had he lived.

I had to go down town to-day for my eye and ear and prostigmin treatment, The 3rd time for going to down town Los Angeles since July, 2. The day was warm and the street crowded as tho it were holiday week-a usual occurrence since the war started. I'm tired of BIG cities, and may go to Santa Barbara next week. This summer I have not had time to even look at my autobiography, will take it to S.B. in the hope the spirits will really MOVE me into action. The cleaning woman comes to-morrow, ladies in for luncheon on Thursday, Tom the yard man comes on Friday when I WORK with him and after he goes, Friday eve Louise comes home, Saturday she leaves with a friend on a motor trip to Albuquerque and so it goes day after day. My dau. Marian is dining out to-night and going to a lecture afterwards, so I'm taking time to finish this letter, then take it to the post box, in the hope you will receive it on Saturday.

I'd like to see Dorothy's Antique shop and Here's hoping the financial returns will repay her for the effort-yes, I'll bet you have a hand in it too.

Well-Peter, Peter, Punkin Eater 'tis time to say Good-night-
Sweet dreams to Dorothy and yourself

NOTES

The old lead button marked Ks.Rl.Rt. N.Y. was not John Davy's as shown by the quotation from a letter from the Dept of History and Archives in the Old Court House at Fonda, N.Y. Letter was rec'd by Mrs Hammond of Coronado, Calif. who wrote for information of Henry and John Davy. She is desc. from Henry.

Quote--"We have a list of the men who served in the Royal Regt. and the Loyal Rangers who settled in Upper Canada and it gives Henry Davy as serving in the Loyal Rangers and John Davy in the Royal Regt of N.Y." (R.R.N.Y.) which agrees with the U.E.L.List.

A glance thru the U.E.L.List shows that not many of the K.R.R. N.Y. were among the Ontario settlers, most of whom were members of R.R.N.Y.

Luke Bowen, George Barnhart, John Carscallen, Jacob and Valentine Detlor, Andrew Embury. James Fitchett, Peter Fykes, Abraham and Henry Loucks.

It is possible the button may have belonged to one of the above. I have an English penny of 1754, that is a Bath relic. It may have been left in the Davy house by the Englishman who built it.

I have a very hazy memory of my mother telling me, once upon a time, in the dim past that the Davy store was at one time occupied by the Hudson Bay Co. possibly Jimmie's assertion is correct. Would a history of the Co. state the location of the Bath store. ?

Mrs Rose writes that Jimmie is having the interior of the Davy house modernized. I hope the plans include a new and easier stairs- my mother used to say "those stairs are woman killers". The house was built to endure forever, anyway for 100's of years like the old English castles. Grandpa was married Jan. 25, 1840 according to an entry in the Davy family bible, so I do not know how long before that the house was built.

A Peter Davy desc. told me that Dan McBride's general and liquor store was on the corner of Main and the west side of Davy St. next was Sam Williams blacksmith shop, next was an apple orchard that extended to the end of the block. On the bay front was a saw mill and the Davy wharf.

Miss Clara Johnston of Napanee, P.O.Box-514. She lives on Dundas Street, I think corner of Robert. She is 75 years, and might be able to tell you interesting incidents of life in Bath ^{at one time owned by W.H. Davy} ~~She heard nothing of her for 2 years~~

When I called on Mrs Robert's mother, Mrs Burley, in 1944, she told me she had always remembered a remark my father had made when she was young---

" Some day a person will stand on the Point, look towards the village and say THAT IS WHERE BATH WAS. She thinks the remark was prophetic.

Bath is so beautifully located that it is a pity the bungalows that are being built are eyesores instead of beauty spots. It does not cost any more to build an attractive bungalow than to build an ugly one. A Planning Commission with foresight, pride, common sense and reasonable building restrictions would result in Bath becoming a beautiful residential village, peopled by a desirable class of residents. Such plans are carried out in other places by people who say IT CAN BE DONE. And it would have been just as easy to have an arcade of shops on Main street as to have an assortment of shabby looking makeshifts to serve as stores.

Of course money would have to be borrowed, an architect employed, a central heating plant would have kept them warm in winter and cool in summer.

The expense would have been justified, attractive shops and goods would be a drawing card for customers &c. Of course the time for making such plans would have been right after the fire when outsiders were willing to give financial help.

Similar things are being done other places. Perhaps we will see Bath as it should be from our "mansions in the skies" when a younger and more enlightened generation makes it over.

Those incidents I sent you would not be appropriate for your legends unless they were used to illustrate certain points.

I have an interesting book entitled Old Paths and Legends of New England The East Coast, Massachusetts, Rhode Is and New Hampshire with 175 illustrations by Katherine Abbot, pub. 1909. Another book by her is Old Paths and Legends of the New England Border, Connecticut, Deerfield and Berkshire, which is just as interesting, but I chose the former because my interests are in the eastern part and in R.I.

there is no mention of Wm. H., although it refers to his wife, Sophia, his sons, Peter, John, Benjamin F., and George, and to his daughters, Eve, Margaret, Sophia and Elizabeth.

Then, when you add the following item from the will of Capt. John Walden Meyers, of Belleville, the second husband of the Widow Sophia Davy, the matter appears to be settled: (This will is dated 1821)

7. I will and bequeath to my wifes son Benjamin Davey Two hundred acres being lot No. 18 in the fourth concession of Rawdon, County of Hastings, Midland District, Province of Upper Canada, if he continues or remains on the premises until 21. Likewise a good saddle and bridle and $40 in money. Likewise to Benjamin Davey two good suits of clothes.

8. I will and bequeath to George Davey and William H. Wetzel, sons of my wife Sophia, 100 acres each, being parts of lot number 18 in the fourth concession of Rawdon and also two good suits of clothes each and a horse, saddle and bridle and $40 in money.

All the above should settle for all time the controversy as to the parentage of William H. Davey. It is very evident that his father was the Wetzel I referred to in my previous letter. Whether Sophia had married the Wetzel man is open to whatever interpretation one wishes to give the question.

I am returning to you the typed genealogy of the Davey family so kindly loaned to me many, many months, or years, ago. My thanks to you for your patience in this matter. I admit to being a most inefficient, slothful person when it comes to answering letters. The spirit is willing but the flesh is so very weak.

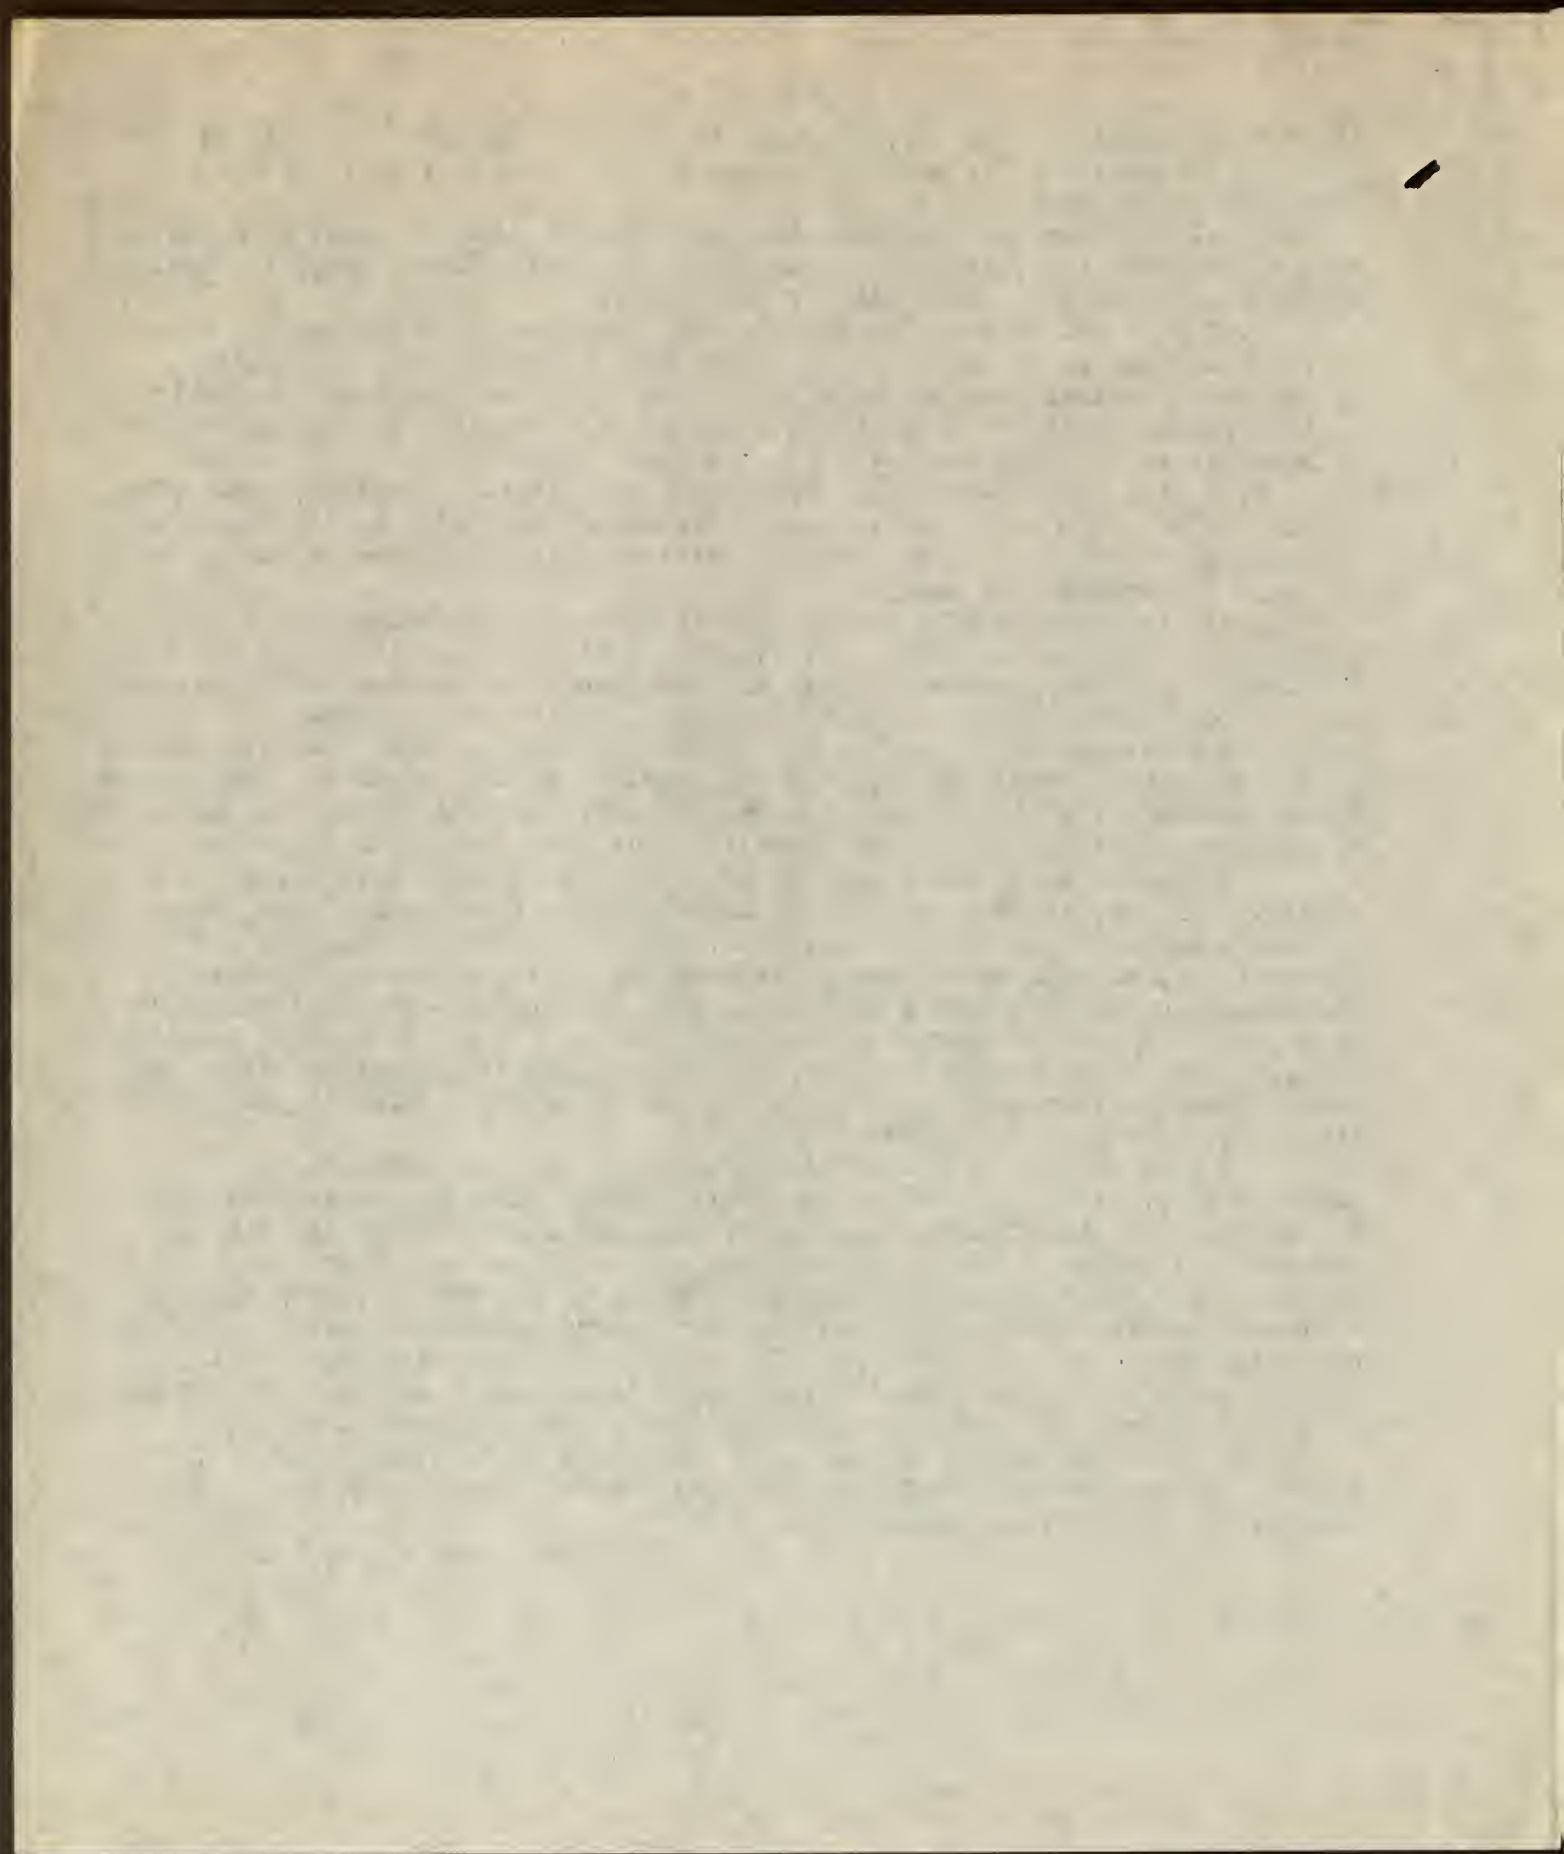

I started on my book, Legends of the Old Bath Road, last spring or late winter. It meant, first of all, the collection of all pertinent items, story by story, and building by building. This, when one starts at Kingston and ends at the ferry, amounts to a great deal. Naturally, much refers to the French occupation (of which I have a great deal that is original--at least it hasn't been published with reference to this region). Then, there is much of Loyalist days, as well as anecdotes and descriptions of past and present buildings and views, here and there. I hope that it will be worth the effort--it will to me and will, I hope, to the public at large.

I have had to lay aside this work during the summer months. So much going on then. Visitors, garden, my wife's antique shop, my own laziness and the weather all interfere with progress, although I had reached the Fairfield House(White) before I laid it aside. I expect to resume work when the cold weather comes and the potatoes have been dug. I do appreciate your notes and feel like putting you in somewhere. Would you mind greatly? If you do, I shall not paint your pen picture if you will send me some more anecdotes. Tell me, please, if there is any truth in Jimmie Hogle's assertion that the Davey store at the corner of Main & Davy Streets was once a Hudson's Bay Co. store.

My very best wishes to you in the future. I do hope that your pen, or typewriter, continues to work, and that you sent me from time to time some evidence of your wit and industry.

Ever yours sincerely,

Bath, Ontario
27 July, 1947.

Dear Mrs. Lowry,

At very, very long last I am writing a letter to you. Naturally I am heartily ashamed of being such a delinquent correspondent. But, as you say, there isn't time enough for a busy person to do all the things one wants, or ought to do.

However, many thanks for your letter. Letters like yours and Ray Freeman's come with a certain degree of regularity, even though I never answer. It just seems as if you both understand why I do not answer as I should. I owe Ray three letters--sad to relate. However, I expect to write to him after I have completed this to you.

We naturally miss seeing you in Bath, although every time you come you remind me of what Bath was, or could be. More's the pity. The village has not changed greatly. The beastly scar that rested across Main Street after the fire has been somewhat obliterated by a disease in the shape of mushroom stores--Hagedorn's, Osborne's and Gallagher's, not to mention a woodworking shop at the rear of the store once operated by Ernest Shepherd. There have been several cheap buildings constructed on the back streets, and the Babcock boys at the west end of the village are building twin houses. Doubtless they intend to retire and let the old house go with the farm. Between Babcock's and Arthur Huffman's there are three new cottages--one good and two bad, architecturally. Otherwise, Bath is as much a maggot-infested ruin as ever.

Many thanks for your interest in my proposed 'Legends of the Old Bath Road.' Your anecdotes are refreshing and should find a place in any reminiscences of the village. In this connection, will you please tell me what you can recall of that portion of land along Davy Street from Ernest Feigel's blacksmith shop to the water front. I refer to the Turkington house and the lot about it, as well as the garden behind the blacksmith shop. You know, I own that last lot. A few weeks ago I was gardening and turned up an old lead button. It had the following inscription: 'Ks. RL. Rt. New York, in two lines. All was surrounded by a wreath of leaves and surmounted by a crown. This was without doubt a button of some Loyalist who had served under Sir John Johnson. Perhaps it was John Davy's. In any event, it is the oldest relic, almost, in Bath.

I am sorry that you brought up the difference of opinion re John Davy's death and the parentage of Wm. H. Davy. I say this because there is ample evidence to refute your statement that the John Davy buried in Bath United Church cemetery is not the John Davy, father of Wm. H. First: John Davy's will is dated, at least the copy of it that I received from you is. I have it before me, and the title to it says:

Nanawec Registry Office --Will of John Davy of Bath---U. E. L.

Book B--Page 36--No. 65--Reg. June 6, 1808, one o'clock p.m.

Langhorn's Parish Register lists the following burial.

Johannes Davy, of Ernesttown, buried May 21, 1808.

Tombstone in Bath United Church Cemetery is copied as follows:

John Davy, died May 30(20th?), 1808, in his 39th year.

Furthermore, the record of baptism of Wm. H. Davy in the same register is:

May 19, 1813, baptized William Henry Davy, son of Mrs. Sophia Davy.

Note that it doesn't say posthumous son of John Davy, nor does it mention John in connection with this baptism. Furthermore, in the will dated June 1808,

Dear Peter:

Yes. You are a busy man and I'm a busy woman. Days are too short for us, but as Mr. Henry told me many years ago, when I complained of lack of time for doing every thing, "the days will never be any longer. You have all the time there is and it is up to you to use it wisely." No sympathy from him. I do not owe you a letter, ^{but} there are a few things to correct in the Davy line. - You must know John Davy's will is not dated and we had an argument about the John Davy death recorded in 1809 and whose headstone in the United Cem. has the same date. ~~and that John Davy was from one of the other Davy families.~~ You must know there is quite a number in that row in the Cem. A cousin told me there was not room for them in St John's at that time so they were interred in the Methodist Cem. That is the story. Grandpa W. S. Davy Sr. was born in ^{Jan. 24} 1812 - bap. in 1813 - and another cousin told me, a few months ago, that Grandpa was a posthumous child, so possibly John Davy U.E.L. - evidently died in 1811 and was buried under the Chancel - as were other U.E.Ls.

While in Plymouth last August I had a photostatic copy made

dated 1683
of ⁻¹⁻Anthony Perry's will, and inventory of his estate - Samuel's ⁻²⁻ and Jasiel's ⁻³⁻ wills are on file at Taunton - I have copies of those also - No will of my 3rd gr-grandfather David Perry.
As his death occurred 6 months after his wife's demise
I infer he disposed of his property while he was living and I am wondering if Robert Perry Sr. did likewise - His wife Jennima Washburn d. in 1830 and Robert in 1837 - I have a copy of the voluminous will of Peter Perry M.P. and of Grandpa Samuel Rogers will.

Last summer - 1946 - I spent a week with Edith Perry who lives in Attleboro, Mass. the coldest part of the year and at the Anthony Perry homestead during the summer months, at Briggs Corners formerly part of Rehoboth - I considered it a rare privilege to be asked to the old homestead and I slept in the room that in former days was parlor, and used for weddings, Christenings, funerals &c - Edith has been gradually selling blocks of the land for building lots. Then she will lessen her responsibility of the upkeep - I met quite a number of Jasiel Perry descendants at a Salad Supper in the basement of a country church and sponsored by Girl Scouts - I felt like a real New Englander -

Sincerely,
Marie E. L.

I was told about it when I was older

She gave me a very pretty ribbon book mark "to remember her by."

You may have heard this one about Bill Lockett - It happened when I was a very small girl.

Bill was a fisherman; one day he was brought home apparently drowned and was laid on the couch.

Granny looked at him a minute, rolled him off the couch face to the floor took hold of his ankles ^{and} shook his body until the water poured from his mouth. He recovered. Sometimes I think her method is more effective than the present day resuscitation. His wife was Maggie Johnson, and I can remember going in to see their first baby - Granny was feeding it toast soaked in sweetened tea (hot) Granny put the spoonful in her own mouth to cool it before feeding it to the baby. I've seen other old Bath women do the same with other babies. When we think of the present day precautions against germs such things make us squirm. Somehow the kids thrive.

Ray wrote that you are working on a book on life in L & A. County and will include stories &c - You may be able to "work in" the following incidents - They are not much by themselves - Much has happened in Bath since we left 60+ years ago - If I have good luck this summer - I hope to revise "Bath, as I remember it" as you suggested will send you a copy -

Ernest Shephard's parents were born in England
His father clipped his off certain words and added them to others - One day he said to his older boy Henry -

"'enery, 'enery go over to 'aseltours and get some h'oak or h'ash to make an 'ammer 'andle" (pronounce a little ah)

If Jimmie Hogle's memory is still good he can verify the above: perhaps Hub Lewis can, altho Hub being a few years younger did not play in our hide and seek games - he must have heard it - for every youngster in the village were saying it over and over and made poor Henry's life miserable for a while -

Mrs Shephard had been employed in a ribbon factory

P.S.
If you have not yet copied that long Navy will on file in Wexford, you might have a photostatic copy made. It probably would have to be done in Toronto or Ottawa. In Plymouth the work is done at the Registry office. In Lunenburg, it has to be done in some other place - and Lunenburg is the County Seat - a live little city.

- Sopher was the maiden name of the mother of Joseph Jewko V.E.L.
Do you have that name among your records? - The names of Sopher and Soper are on the Supplementary V.E.L. list

You have been informed that David Vallean has "passed on" - I think he had been worried about himself since his mother's life ended suddenly some years ago at the age of 69. Other members of her family had died at about the same age - ^{coronary} ^{thrombosis}. I wonder if all the ^{of valuable} genealogical information he collected will ever be compiled. It ought to be worth a goodly sum - A pathetic letter from Mrs Vallean last month asks me to write again - David was affectionate, his family was everything to him -

Dear Dr. Penleigh: It just happened that Clara Davy Johnston knows the Hurst family and gave me the enclosed data- if it is the right Hurst. She has visited the Hursts at Belleville-

There is such an excess of wards in Michael Davy's will that I copied the names of the children only- no mention of his wife- evidently not living at that time- You have a copy of the John Davy Will- His will was made before my grandfather William Henry was born as it is dated 1808- I went to the Court House to-day to find date of will when probated- The young lady in the Sheriff's office could not find it-and as the vault is in Mr Laylor's office, which was locked while he was at the Davy funeral she thought that record might be in the vault.

His name is not mentioned

Andrew Miller one of the executors of John Davy's will was buried under the Chancel of St John's Church and I've been told John Davy was also buried there - I wonder if William Rogers and the other men who subscribed to the original church were all laid there too - If so would the records be in the Synod House?

Clara says - Evans at one time a rector at St John's was a scoundrel - He burned a barrel full of papers relating to the parish and many other mean acts - after which he returned to England -

I was at Mrs Mac Naughton's yesterday - The next time I'll bring up the cemetery question as she is a gr-granddaughter of Hannah Perry and Barnum Aylsworth and of Jennima & Robert Perry Sr - I might be able to get a contribution or promise of one from Frank Perry - but am not sure At least I hope to stir up some interest so that there will be a favorable response when you send out the letters. I hope you and Mrs B had a pleasant and profitable Ottawa trip - I did not leave Bath until Wednesday night - The Larries brought me over

Regards to you two

Davey Family Reunion Held 1946

ODESSA, Aug. 9—The family of the late Benjamin Davey and Agnes Hymers recently held a reunion at Lake Ontario Park. The late Mr. Davey lived to be 96 years of age and his parents were United Empire Loyalists, who settled first on the shore of Lake Ontario, near Parrott's Bay, coming later to the Asselstine Woollen Mills just southwest of the village of Odessa, where he was born. He operated the feed and flour mills known as Links Mills, which later were burned. He made some of the first gold dust corn meal by contriving a machine to separate the white part of the corn from the golden part. He also invented a machine to remove the wild peas from the wheat, which gave a dark appearance and a bitter taste to the flour and were a great plague at that time.

Members of the family, their children and grandchildren who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lucas, Mary and Gerald, and 30 cents cwt. on Wednesday to $16.50 for good ewes and wethers delivered by rail and $16 by truck. Bucks sold at $1 cwt. discount and culls were $11 to $13 cwt. Sheep were down 50 cents at $3 to $8.50.

Hogs closed at, dressed, Grade A $21.50, Grade B1 $21.10, sows mostly $18.75.

TAX CUTS EXPECTED

WELLINGTON, N.Z.—(CP)—Substantial cuts in taxation are expected to be announced in the budget to be presented in New Zealand. Finance Minister Nash, who has been engaged in trade discussions in England and America, said before leaving for New Zealand that he had to return to present a budget "to win the election."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hartman and Nancy of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Davey and son Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Davey Jean and George of Black River, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown and son, Carl, of Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Davey of Picton, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Alexander of Madoc, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buck of Harrow-smith, Mrs. Kenneth Jacquith and son, Edward, of Peterborough, Mrs. James Hannas of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Billie, George and Donald of Odessa. Also attending were cousins of the family, Mrs. Mary Davey and Miss Ruby Davey, and Mr. and Mrs. William Davey of Kingston.

There were several grandchildren unable to attend.

couata) opposed the bill extending benefits to the men recruited by Britain and the United States for service behind enemy lines.

Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East) urged that re-establishment credits of deceased veterans be made payable to children as well as to widows and dependent mothers.

Little progress was made on the foreign exchange control bill. H. H. Hatfield (PC—Victoria-Carleton) saw members turn down by a vote of 57-17 an amendment which would have meant that farmers and fishermen at border points would have been allowed to export up to $100 worth of produce a month without a permit from the board. All that would be necessary would be a declaration to a customs officer.

New Clothing To Be Tested

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—(AP)—United States Army clothing and boots lined with fibre-glass will be tested in Alaska and the Aleutians this winter as a protection against extreme cold.

The War Department said today the material is expected to prove much warmer and lighter than present wool and cotton garments.

An army observer who wore an experimental parka lined with fibre glass in the Canadian Army-RCAF Muskox expedition in Northern Canada last winter reported it afforded comfort even other economic changes make such action necessary.

PROBE ACCIDENT

My dear Colonel Burleigh -

I received your name and address through Mrs. John Lowry of Hollywood, California. We are both descendants of the Davy brothers who were United Empire Loyalists, and who settled in Bath. She is descended from John Davy - I am a descendant of Henry Davy. George Davy, born June 4, 1788 who married Anna Vermilyea (born Aug. 30, 1788) on June 22, 1808 - is next in line.

Then comes my grandfather, Peter Davy, born in Bath, Nov. 18, 1819, married Rebecca Ann Robinson (born Dec. 14, 1822) in 1844. They came to Wisconsin in that same year.

My mother, Nellie Davy (their 7th

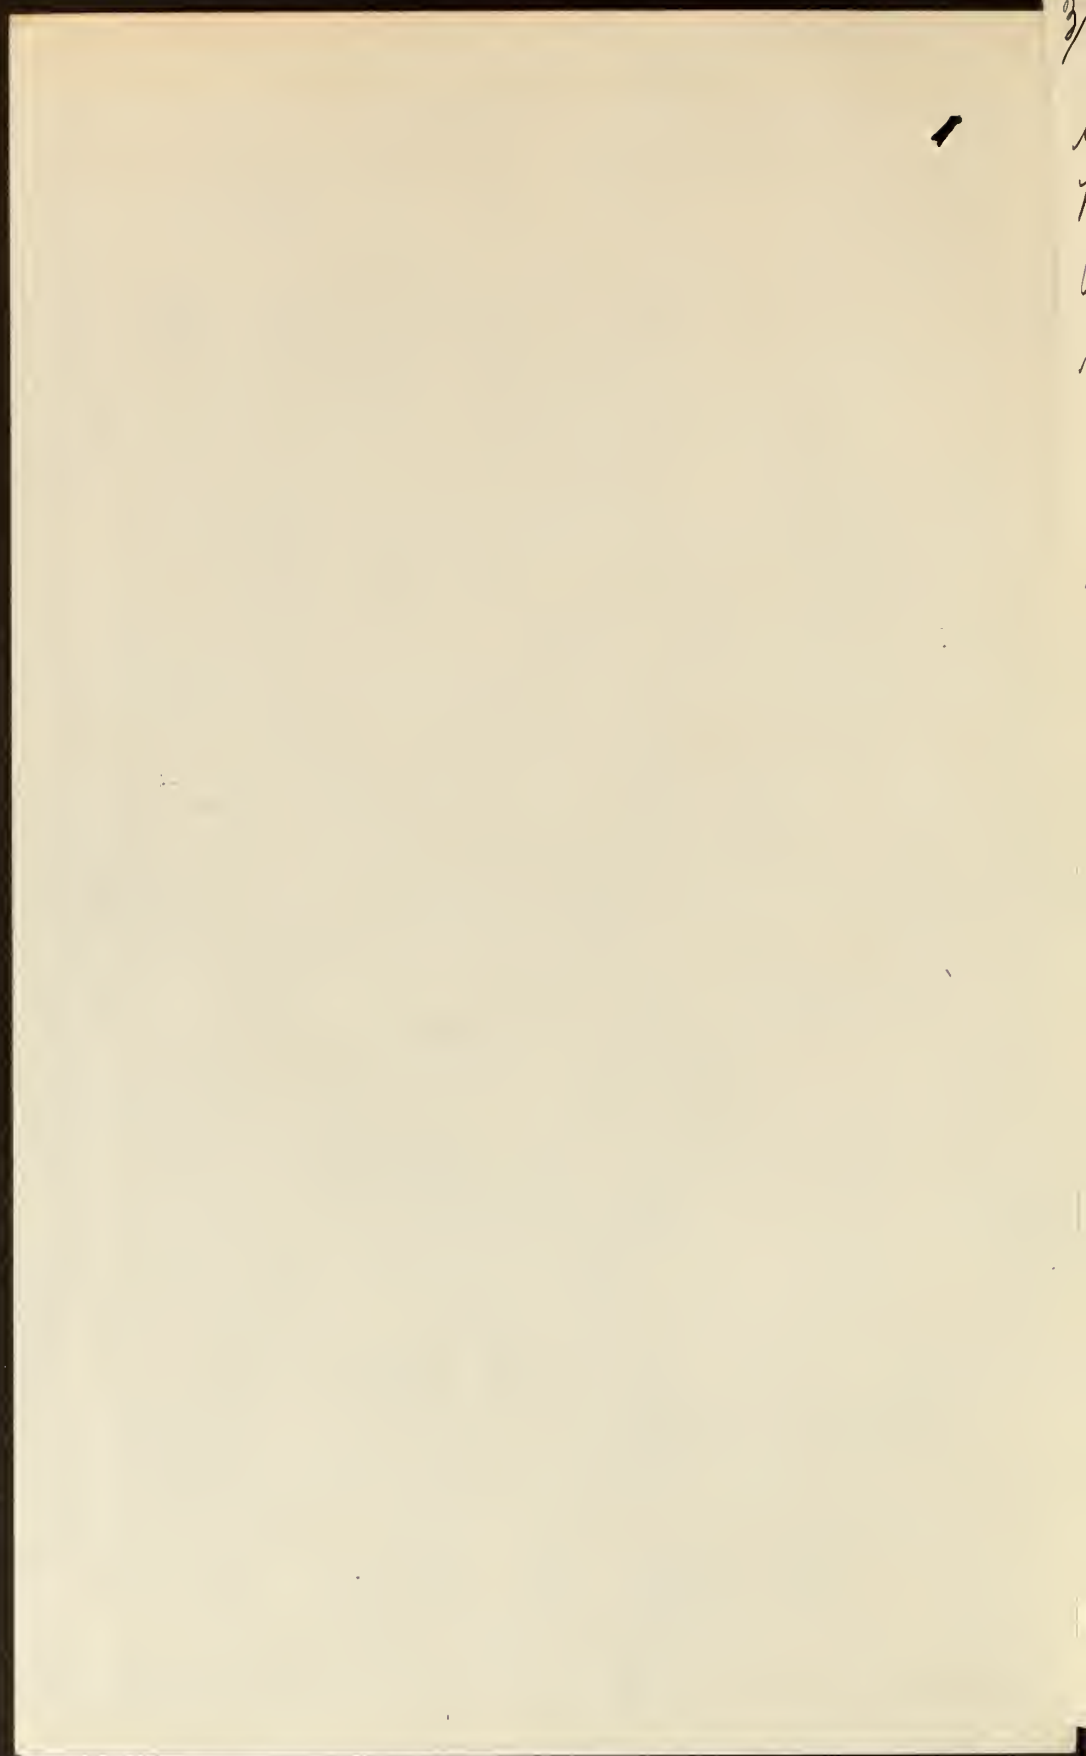

2/ child) born Dec. 22, 1854, married Thomas James Whalen (born July 13, 1857) on Aug. 11, 1879.

I am the second child of that union - born Sept. 17, 1887 - and I married Herbert Lincoln Hammond (born Jan. 11, 1876) on Nov. 12, 1919. We had no children - my husband passed on June 11, 1941.

It would be a guess that some of the Davy records might be in a Methodist church in Bath, as my grandfather's youngest brother was named "Wesley F." and he and his family were Methodists.

I'm told the Davys originally came to Virginia in the 1630's - thence to North Carolina - finally to New York - and to Canada following the Revolution.

I am particularly anxious to complete the ancestral charts for several members of our "clan" are 3/ Veterans of World War #2 - and it is important to one of them. (My husband was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and World War #1 and two uncles were veterans of the Civil War).

Would be particularly grateful for any ancestral data on "Henry Davy" U. E. L. And I would be very happy to give you or any genealogical society "family group charts" from old family Bibles kept by the Wisconsin Davys - 1788 to date.

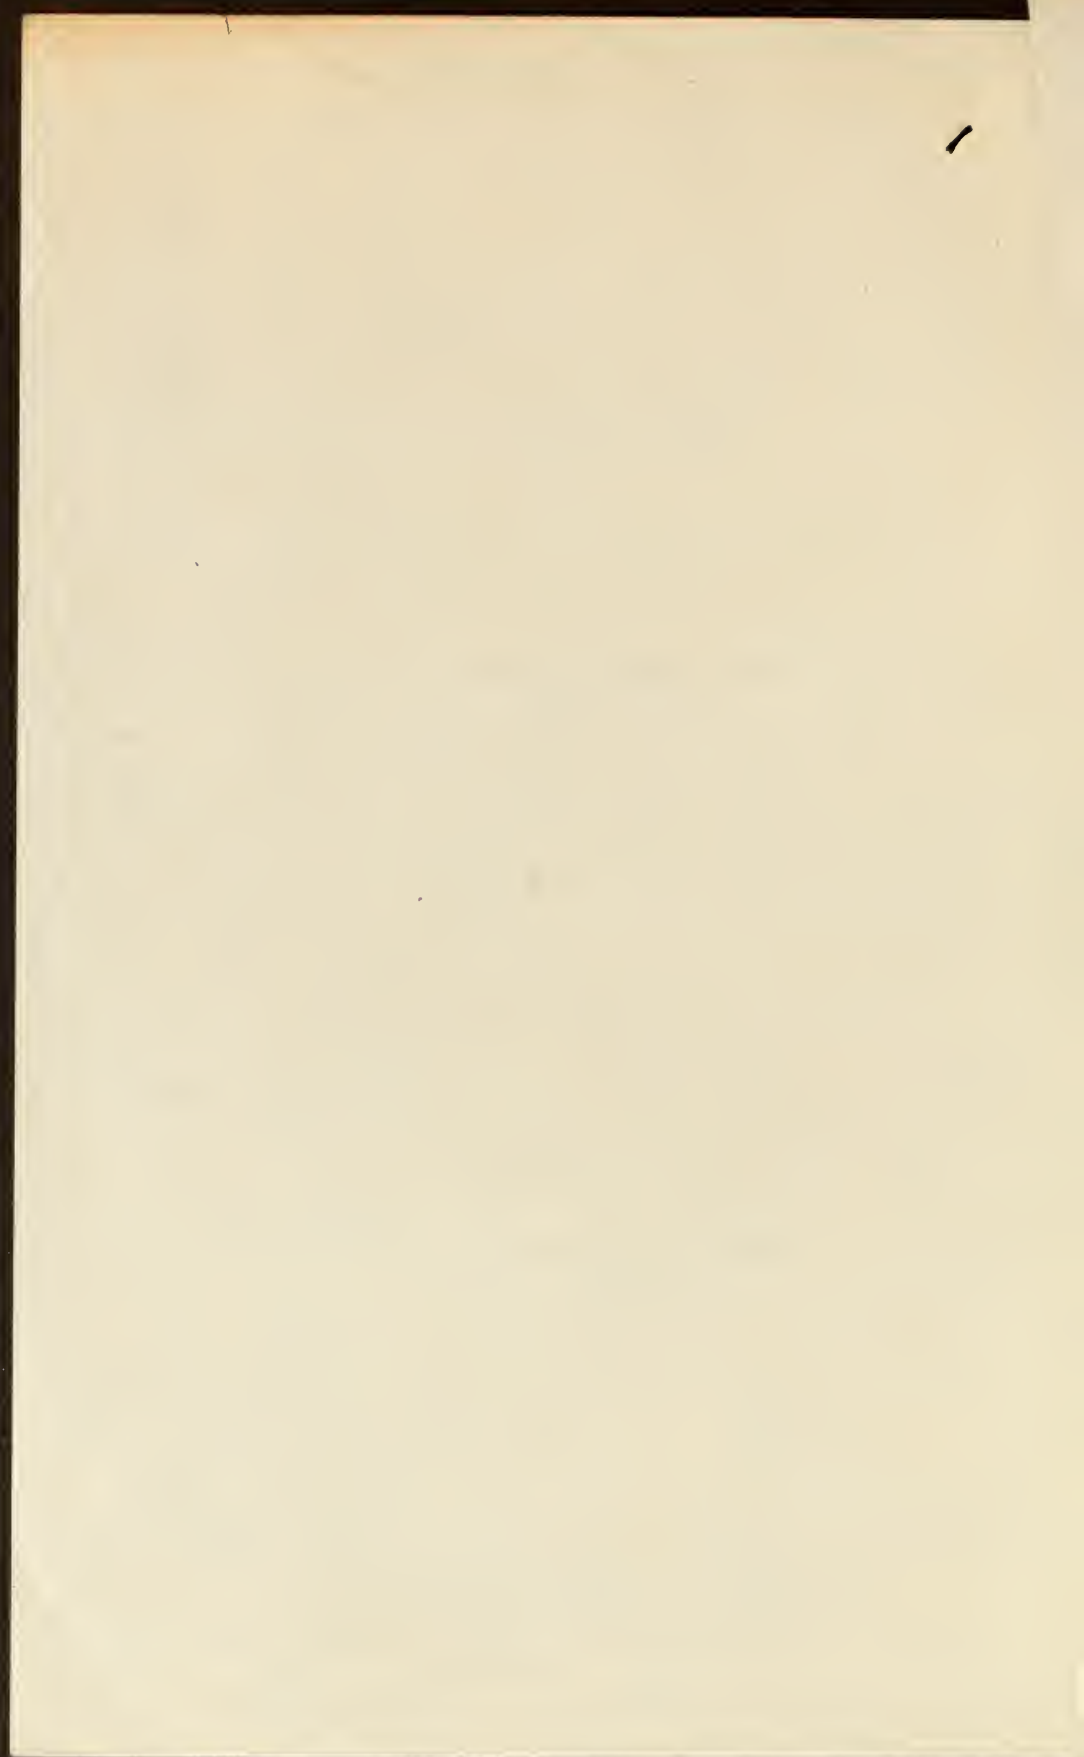

Because the Mormon Church in Salt Lake City, Utah, has a fireproof bldg. for their large genealogical library, I have filed copies of the Davy records there. I am not a Mormon!

I'm sorry I cannot send you return postage - we happen to live in different countries.

Thanking you for your reply. I am

Sincerely yours,

(Mrs. Herbert L. Hammond). Nellie W. Hammond

The late Mr. Lampson had been in failing health and about two weeks ago he was removed to the Kingston General Hospital, where he died. He was in his 74th year and unmarried. He spent most of his life in this district and was widely known.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews.

BENJAMIN DAVY 1945

NAPANEE, May 7 — The late Benjamin F. Davy, 72, passed away on Sunday afternoon, at his residence, Bridge Street, after an illness of four days. The late Mr. Davy was born at Belleville, a son of Robert Perry Davy and Helen T. Grant. He had resided in Napanee for the past 45 years.

The late Mr. Davy, a well-known and highly respected citizen, was for a number of years a member of the hardware firm known as Davy and Allison. He was also a salesman for Clare Brothers, Preston, Ont., and made his last call on May 1. He was for the past 15 years the president of the Liberal Association of Prince Edward-Lennox. He was a member of St. Patrick's Church, Napanee.

The late Mr. Davy, six years ago, Sunday, was predeceased by his wife, the former Leone Cornell.

He leaves to mourn his sudden passing, one sister, Mrs. C. D. Macaulay, Vancouver, B.C., one daughter, Hrs. E. M. Goodwin, at home; and one son, B. F. Davy, WO2., stationed at Petawawa Military Camp. There are also two grandsons, Charles Benjamin and Robert Davy.

Funeral service will be held on Wednesday at 11 a.m. at St. Patrick's Church. Dean E. M. Leacy, the pastor, will officiate at solemn requiem mass.

The regular May meeting of the First Baptist Church Women's Mission Circle was held Tuesday afternoon, May 1, at the home of Mrs. Plewes, Alfred Street, with the president, Mr. D. G. McLaren, presiding.

The devotional period was followed by the usual reports, after which Mrs. A. L. Clark gave an interesting talk on some of the social agencies at work in Kingston, especially among juveniles.

A special feature of the afternoon was the presentation of two life membership certificates, one to Mrs. J. I. Twiss, who has given many years of service to the circle in different capacities and latterly as the treasurer. The other went to Miss Grace Kenyon, a Baptist missionary to India, given in memory of their mother by Miss Kenyon's sisters, Miss Isabel Kenyon and Mrs. C. D. Mott.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. Corvett, served dainty refreshments at the close of the meeting.

RED, WHITE AND BLUE CLUB

The members of the Red, White and Blue Club meeting at the YWCA Friday afternoon made Red Cross dressings. Mrs. W. R. Belcher, president, was in charge. Mrs. A. N. Bain convened the refreshments and presided at the table at the tea hour. She was assisted by Mrs. Lalonde, while Mrs. A. D. MacDonald and Mrs. C. F. Ritz looked after the children.

ICE CREAM CRUSH

LONDON — (CP) — Crowds queueing for ice cream in Leicester Squar, heart of the entertainment district, have forced the management of one establishment to hire a special doorman to keep customers in line and the sidewalks clear.

Davy

The following account of the Davy Family was written by Cinderella Perry, wife of Benjamin F Davy for her great grandson Robert Davy Macauley. She died 1901, ae.86.
She died 1901

"John Davy, a U.E.L. left the Mohawk Valley in N.Y. and settled on a large tract of land on the Bay of Quinte, where Bath now stands, in 1785, such land being given to him by the Crown. He was a widower with 2 daughters, one of whom was named Eve who married -----Lewis and after his death married ----Laird. I do not know who the other dau. married.

John Davy was mar. Nov. 22, 1787 to Sophia Huffnell by the Church of England missionary John Langhorn, the first marriage recorded on the books of St John's Church, Bath and the first recorded birth was that of their first child Peter Davy.

St John's at Bath was the second English church built in Canada. In those days all churches were called English, as that was the established church.

John Davy's children married as follows:

Peter-----mar. Aurelia Chapman from Rouse's Point, N.Y.
John-----mar. Fannie Woods
Benjamin---mar. Cinderella Perry
George-----mar. Sarah Pringle
William H---mar. Hannah M Perry
Margaret---mar. Saba Murphy
Elizabeth---mar. John B Miller, a southerner

A few years after John Davy died, his widow married Captain Moyers and took the younger boys to Belleville where they lived in the old Moyer home that stood on the hill facing the River Moira, then called Moyer's Creek.

Capt. Moyers died in 1821, and altho rich, his widow got nothing but a farm in Sydney, on the 3rd Concession about 9 miles from Belleville. When Capt. Moyers and Sophia Davy were married, the ceremony was not performed by a Church of England minister, and in time there was a law making such marriages illegal, therefore, the widow Meyers could not inherit her third of the estate. The law was annulled years afterwards.

While your gr-great grandfather Peter Perry was in Parliament, he was greatly interested in legalizing of marriages performed outside of the Church of England.

Sophia Moyers' girls all married, but the boys were left homeless.
-Barbara Huffnell married John Maybee and lived on the 2nd Concession of Sydney about 7 miles from Belleville, where the boys had a home for a while. Sophia Mpyers gave her farm to her daughter Sophia who had married Ira Billings who came from a fine family in Ottawa; he was educated for a doctor, but drink was his ruin. Sophia Moyers died on her Sydney farm and was buried in the old Trenton graveyard near Trenton about 1840.

In the meantime Saba Murphy had established a business in Ovid, N.Y.. 53

He taught Benjamin the business of a general store; Benjamin returned to Bath where he opened a general store. He sent for the younger boys George and William and took them in his store.

Benjamin and Cinderella Perry were married Jan. 20, 1834. About 1837 Benjamin left William in charge of the Bath store while he opened one in Napanee. After that was well started Benjamin left George in charge of the Napanee store while he went to Whitby and went in partner with his father-in-law Peter Perry in a general store. After staying in Whitby 2 years Benjamin moved to Belleville where he opened a wholesale and retail store, packed pork for Gilmore's lumber camp on the Madawaska, was also a heavy grain buyer and was the second mayor of Belleville. He entered into rest March, 6, 1860.

George Davy was the first merchant in Napanee and owned the first grist mill on the Napanee River.

The Hufnagel (Huffnell) family also came from the Mohawk Valley. These Loyalists had to give up their possessions and came to Canada poor, but loyal to their king. (M.E.L. says he did not deserve their loyalty)

Mary Hufnagel----mar. -----Davis

Katie " " ----mar. ----Clough

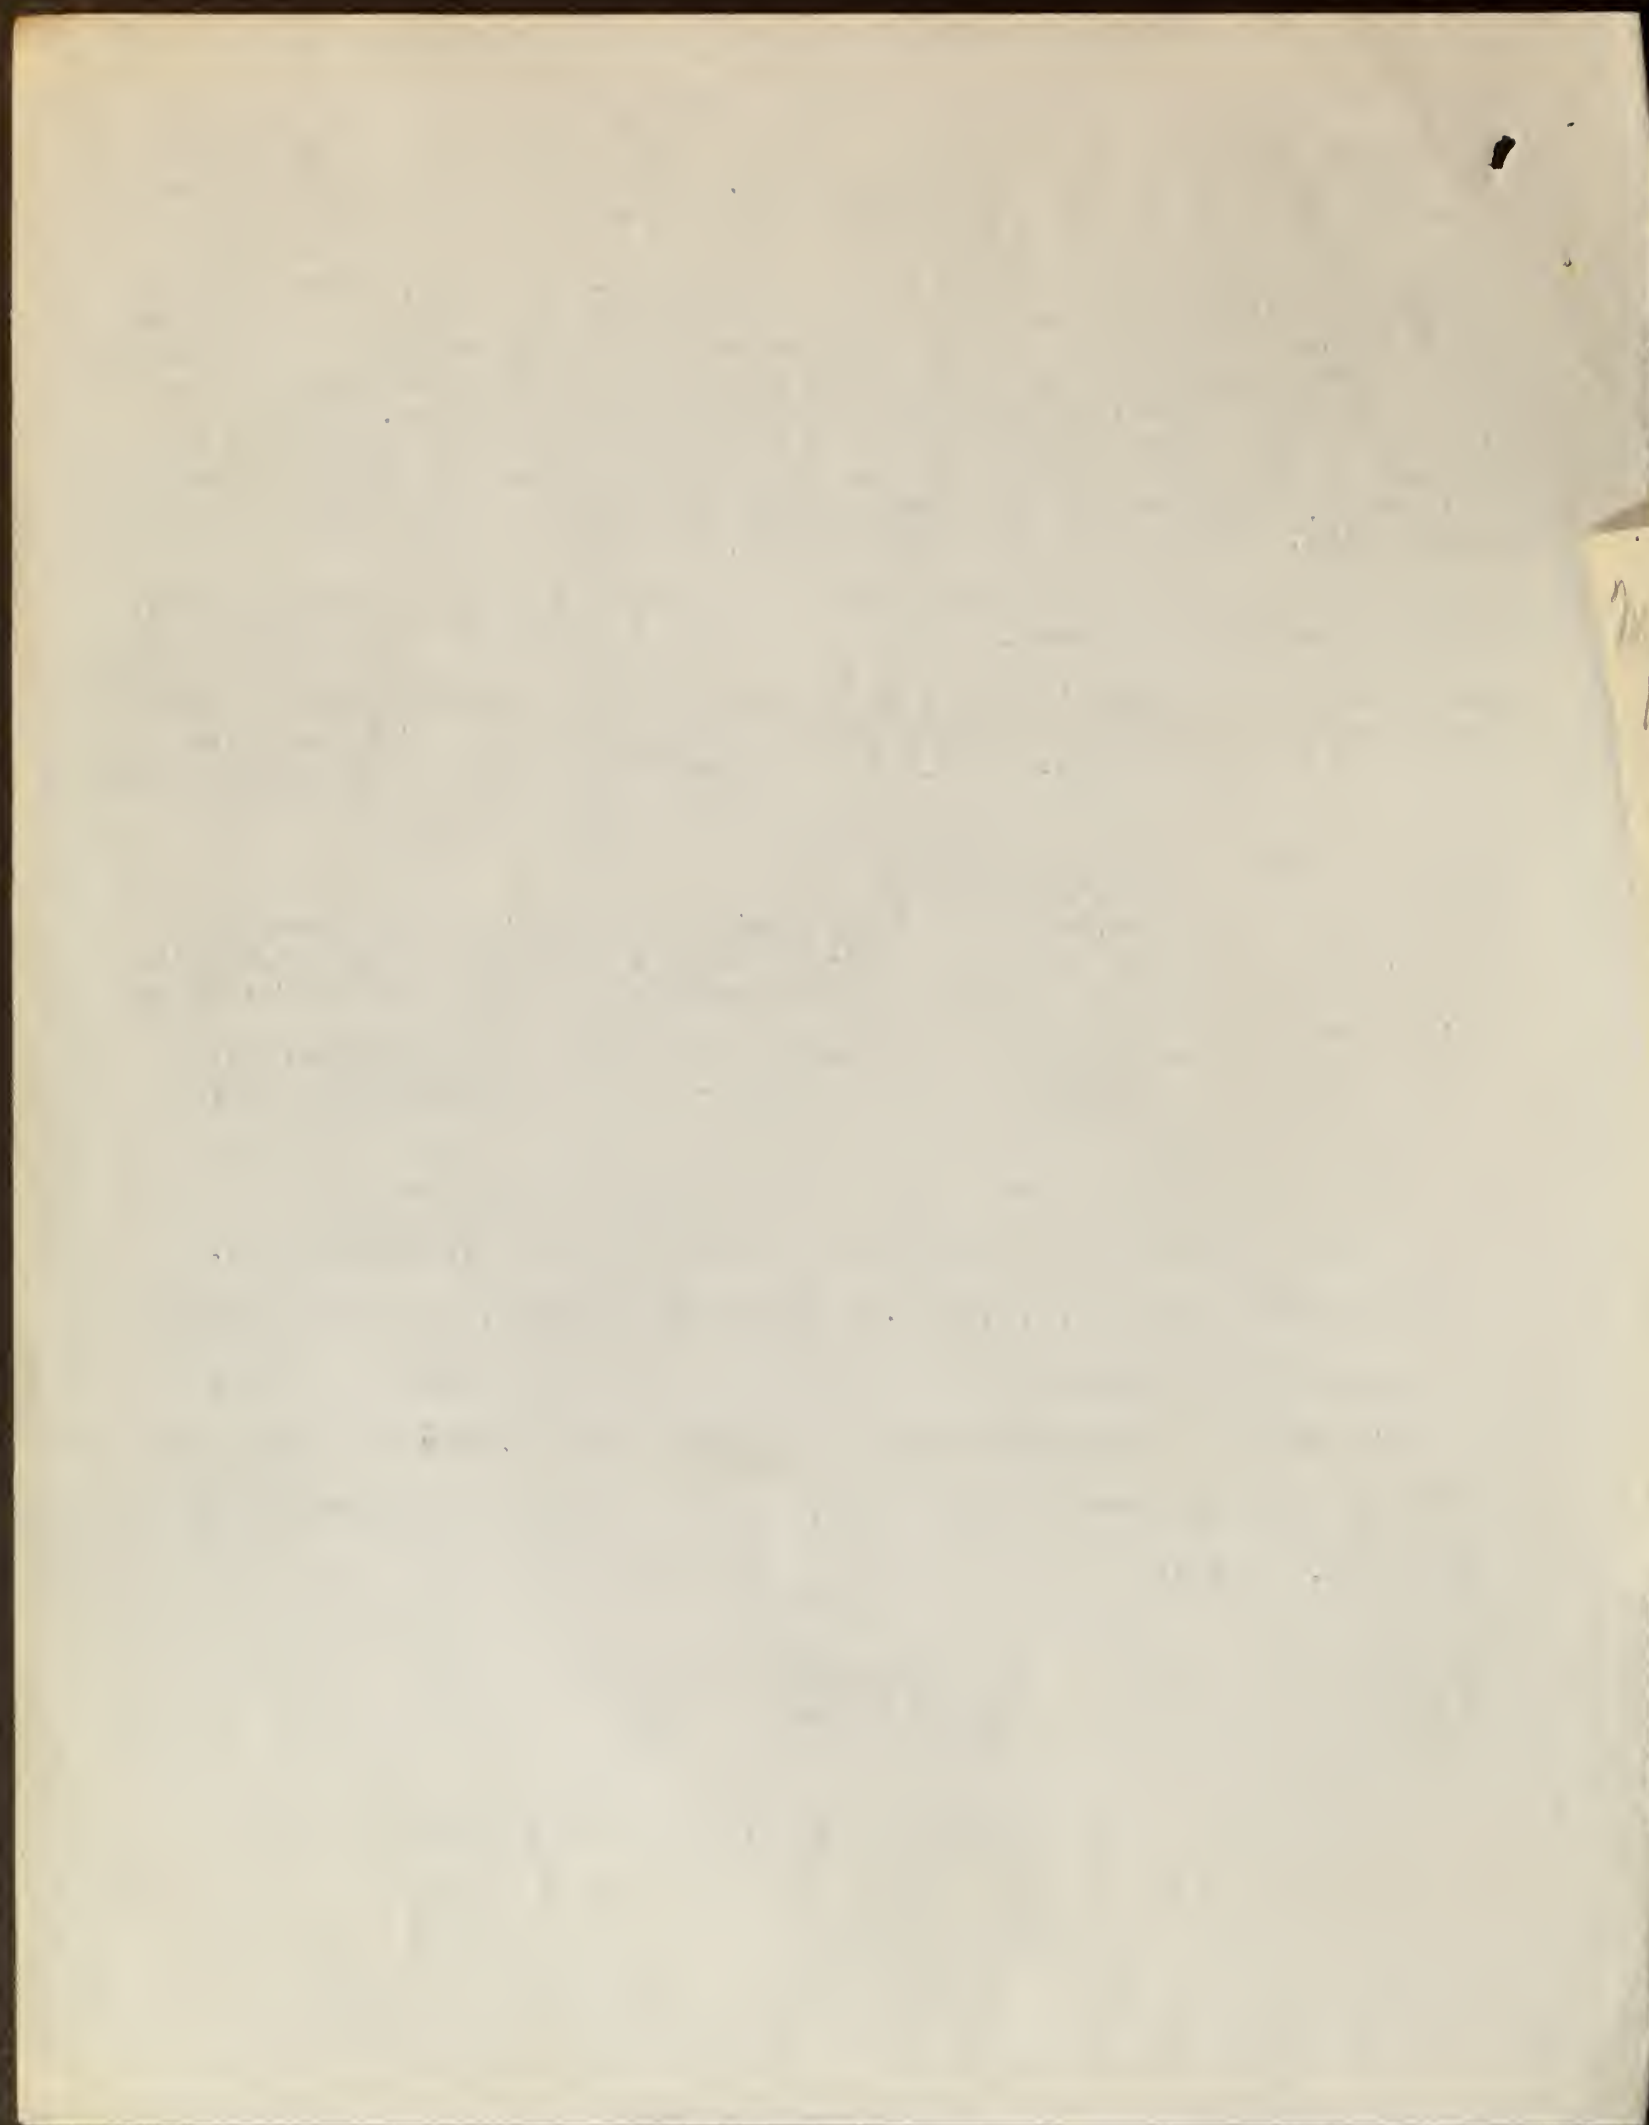

Jacob " " ----mar.----- John Davy's brothers 's names were Peter, Henry, Thomas, Michael. (I'm sure the Thomas Davy who was killed in the Battle of Oriskany in the Mohawk Valley was John Davy's brother.M.E.L.)

John Davy's sister Catherine married -----Asselstine-son's name David.

" " " Elizabeth " -----Baker-son's name William.

The above was written by Gr-aunt Cinderella as she remembered it.

The records in the O.H.S.-Vol. I, are more complete, but she was the only one of her generation who tried to leave an account of her husband's family. Her account of the Robert Perry family was taken from Hannah Perry Aylsworth's obituary, I did not think it necessary to copy it. M.E.L.

August 15th., 1938.

My dear Postmaster,-

What a small world this is after all. When I walked into the office here of Camp MEDOMAK, I was greeted at the door by Major Davy, born and raised in Napinee, his father still alive at 98, and his grandfather a UEL. His father's sisters are still alive, one of them 102. They all have plenty of material of value to the Bath Historical. Wasn't it a funny co-incidence that I should run into him?

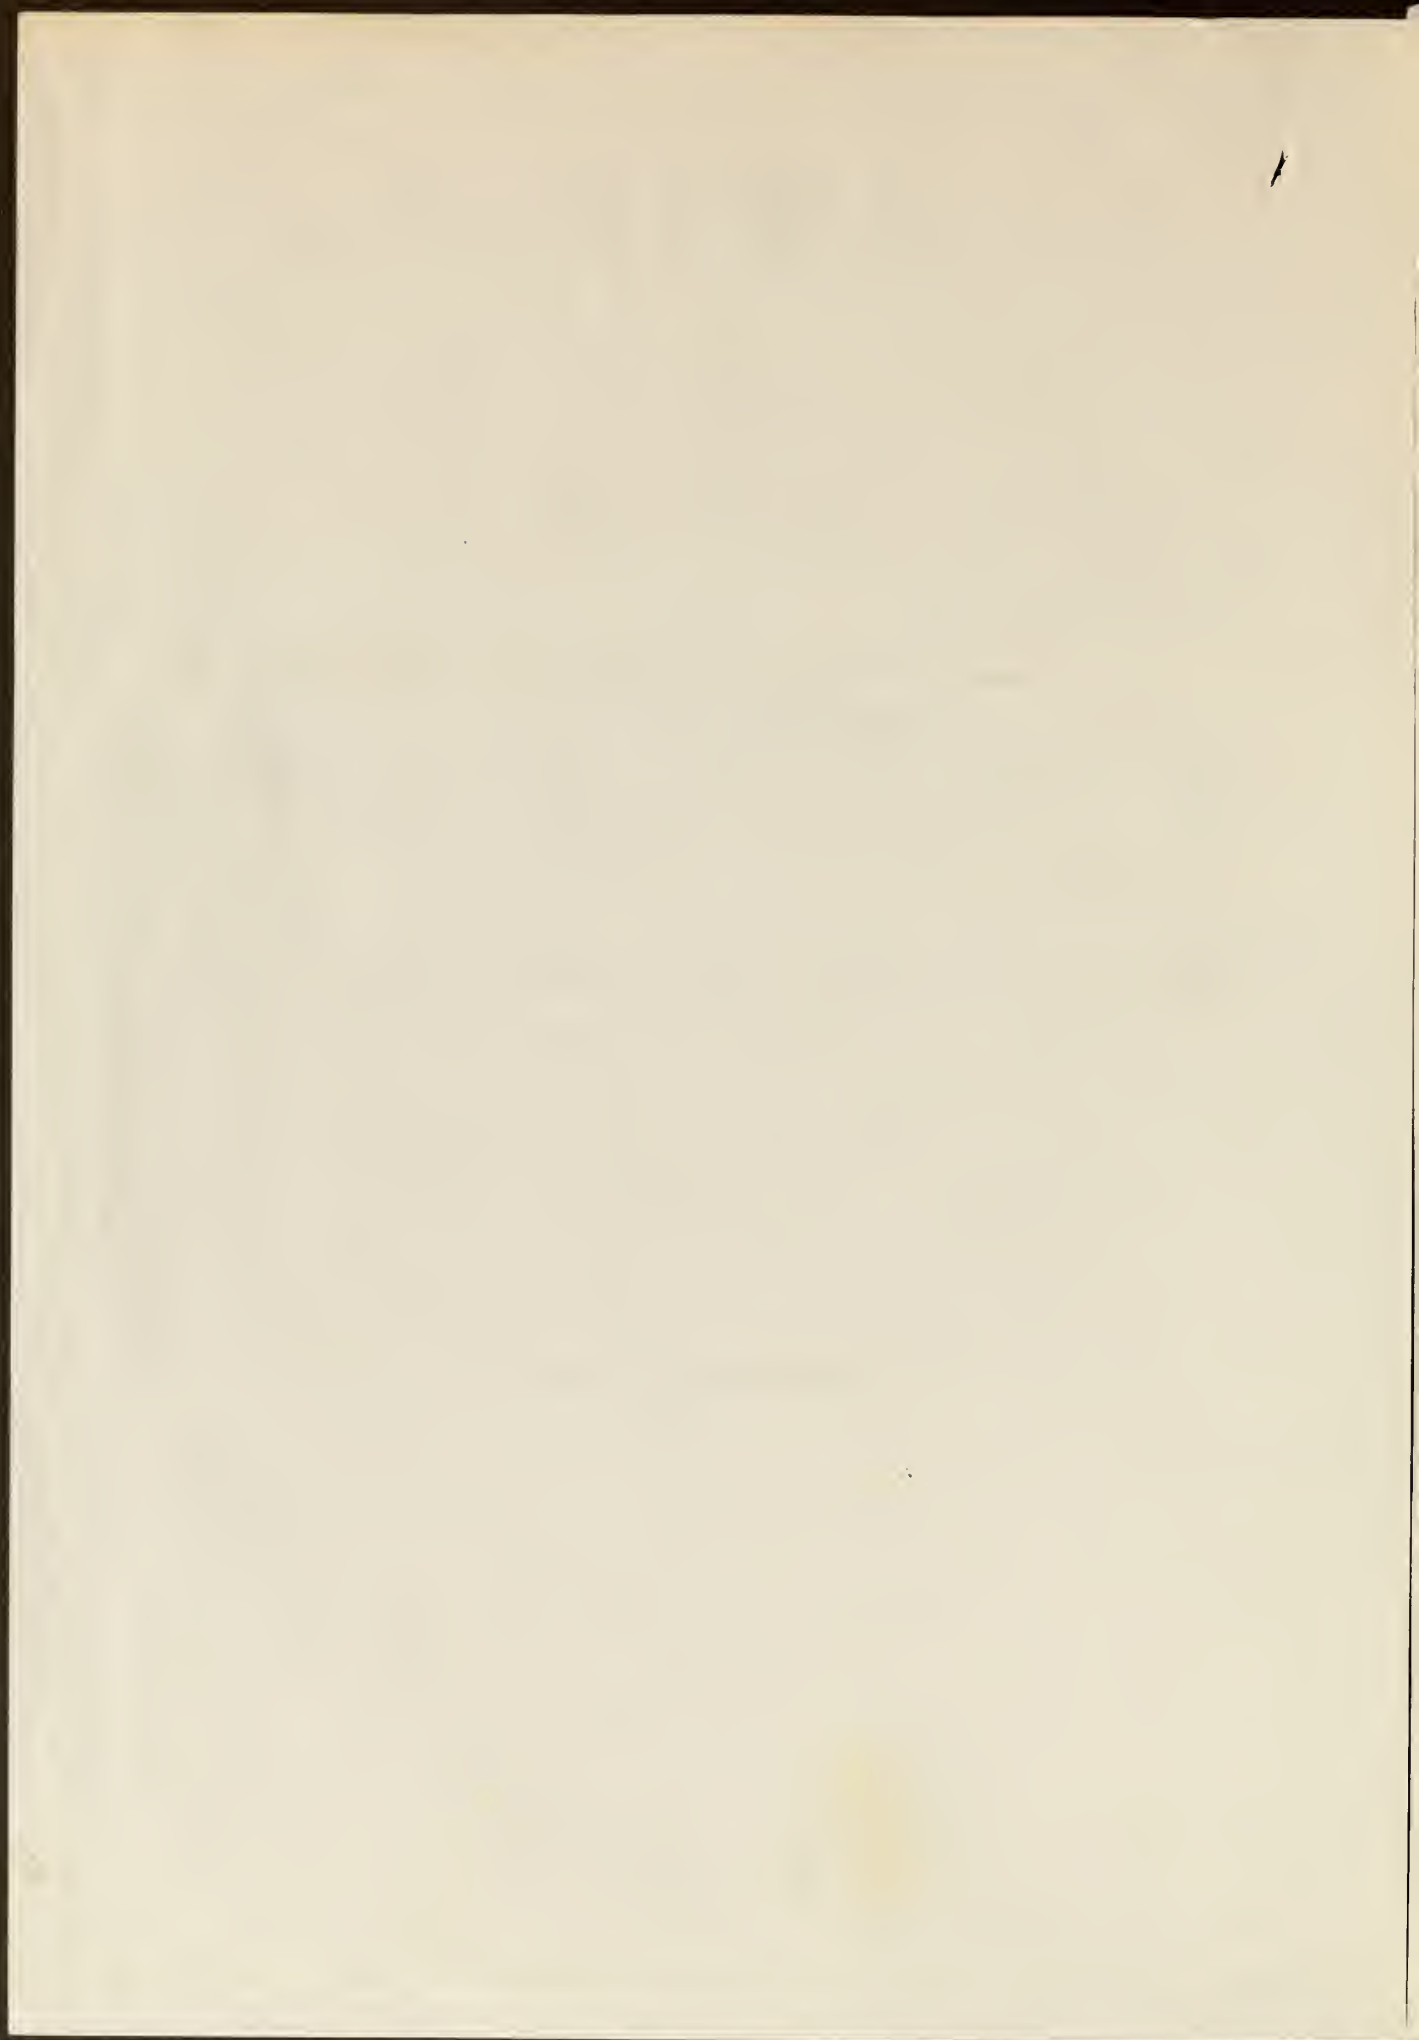

We are motoring around here and having a good time for a few days. We are visiting at the New England Music Camp, Oakland, Maine.

I leave for Chicago on the 18th, and hope to be back at Bath the 28th.

With best wishes to all, believe me

Sincerely yours

Jeffrey C. Hara

THE DAVEY or DAVY families. by E. Ross Laughlin, M.D.

The Davey family is intimately connected with the descendants of James Laughlin so a few words about them will be appropriate. The Loyalists spell their name Davey but their descendants frequently use plain Davy.

Four Davey Loyalists settled in Upper Canada. Apparently they were brothers.

(1) HENRY DAVEY of Ernest Town, soldier in the Royal Regiment of New York, Land Board Mecklenberg, 1789.

His petition for land is as follows "-Henry Davey, U.E.L. humbly prays for lands for his wife and one child born before the year 1789."

Henry Davy received a land grant, west half of Lot 7, Concession 14, in Burford Township, Oxford County, Nov. 2, 1803; -land petition by Henry Davey of Ernest Town, April 22, 1817.

The military records show; -"Henry Davey, Lieutenant, 1st. Addington Militia, Upper Canada, 1812-15.

Henry Davey, Lieutenant of Militia doing duty at Kingston, appointed to command a gun-boat, June 3, 1812.

An extract from "Officers of the British Forces in Canada during the War of 1812-15 by H.L. Irving, 1908." "Militia Officers doing duty at Kingston under Colonel, the Honorable Richard Cartwright (Lieutenant Henry Davey, First Regiment of Addington Militia; -Adjutant Henry Davey). Also in this same book is the notation "Captain McIntosh and Captain Davey of the Incorporated Militia are appointed each to command a gunboat, Militia Order, Kingston, 8 June, 1812."

MARY DAVY, daughter of Henry Davy, U.E.L. of Ernesttown Township, petitioned the Crown for lands on April 23, 1817 in which she said she had attained the age of 21 years, & is the daughter of Henry Davy who retained his loyalty during the late War without suspicions of aiding or assisting the Enemy and did his duty in defence of the Province during the late War. Andrew Mercer of the town of York was her agent to locate her land and take out the deed. Her petition granted June 3, 1817.

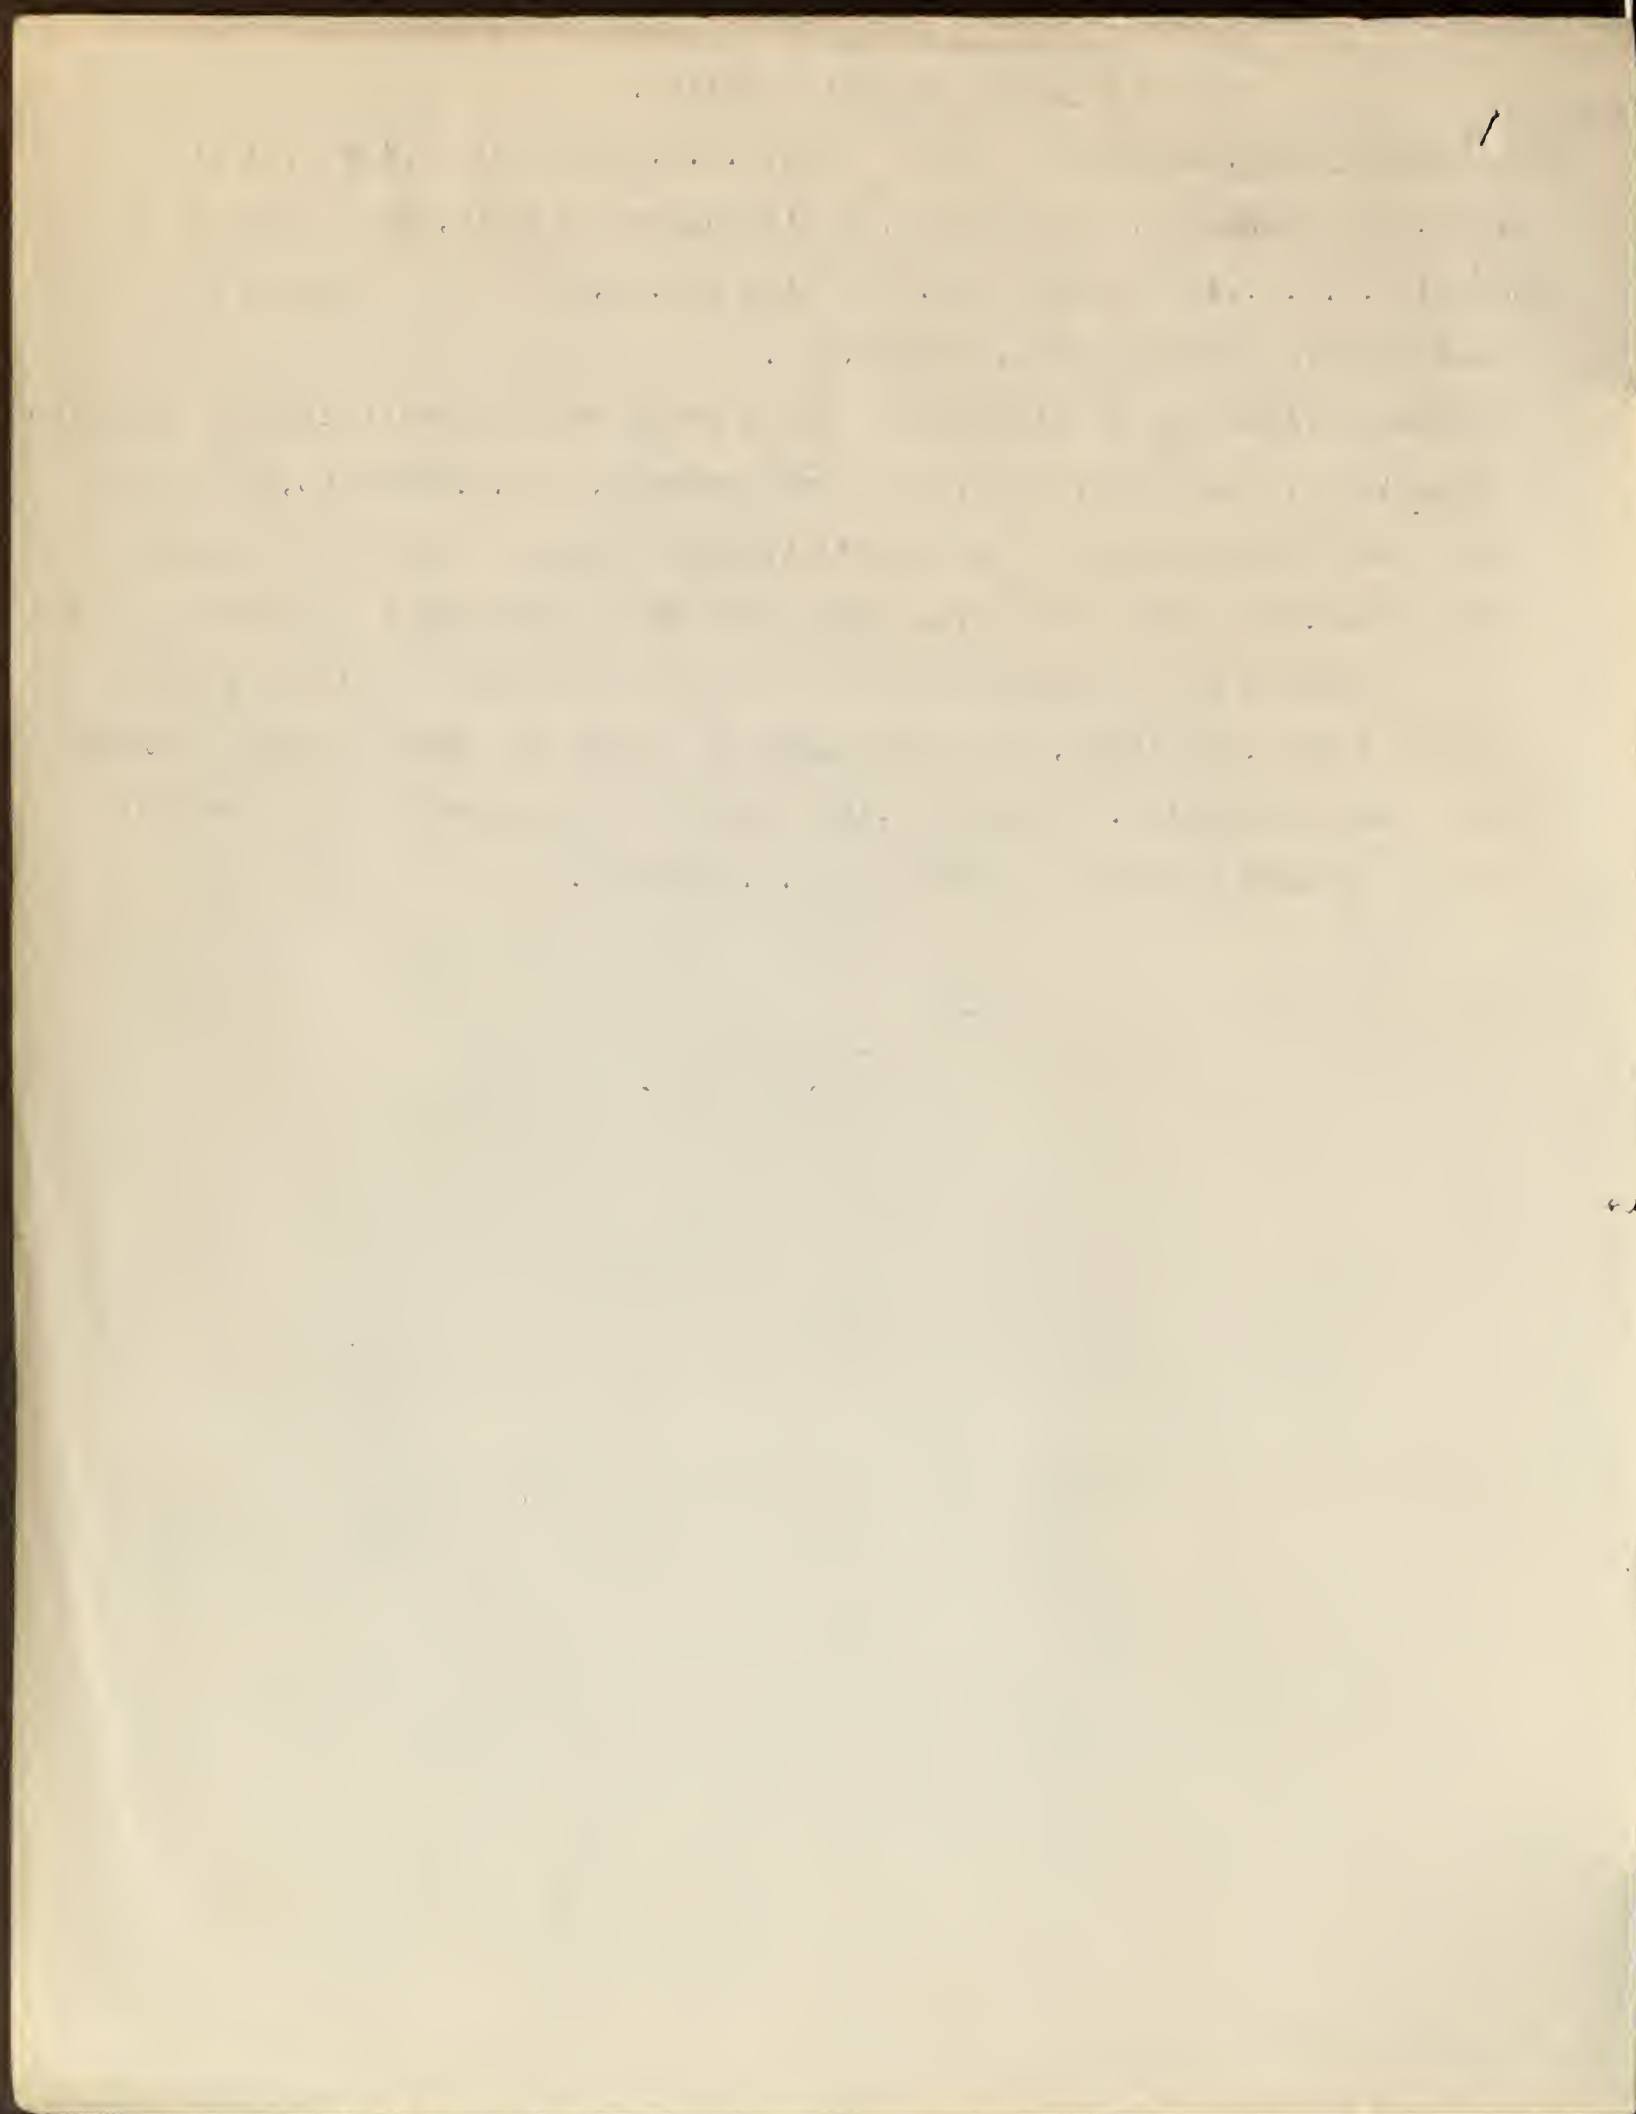

Mary Davy married William Houghtalin on May 13, 1817.

The DAVEY OR DAVY families.

ELIZABETH DAVEY, daughter of Henry Davey, U.E.L., born July 8, ~~1791~~ 1791 in Ernest Town Township, Upper Canada, married James Laughlin, son of Alexander Laughlen, U.E.L., in February 1810. She died Jan. 15, 1824 and is buried in the old Lutheran Cemetery near Odessa, Ont.

On May 28, 1810 she petitioned for Crown lands as follows; "Elizabeth Laughlen daughter of Henry Davy of Ernest Town Township, an U.E. Loyalist, is married to James Laughlen and has never received any land or order for land from the Crown. Your petitioner prays that your Excellency may be pleased to grant her 200 acres of the waste lands of the Crown & permit Charles Baynes of the town of York, gentleman, to be her agent to locate the same and take out the deed when completed." On June 5, 1810 she was recommended to receive 200 acres of land as the daughter of a U.E. Loyalist.

My dear Sir,

I wrote you in 1937 regarding the Davy-Vermilyea families, but my own family records are earlier than the dates on the memorial windows.

The Wisconsin Centennial Society is asking for my family genealogy for its permanent library.

The earliest data I have is of George Davy, born June 4, 1788; who married Anna Vermilyea, born married June 22, 1808.

George Dary died Sept. 30, 1854,
and Anna Vermilyea died
Apr. 23 - 1863.

Surely some of their descendants living in your community may have the genealogical records.
In the book which I am trying to complete I must begin with the first American ancestor; and I feel this takes the family history to New York and Pennsylvania.

Would you be kind enough to ask some of the Darys and Vermilyeas in your parish to help me if they can?

short of breath when he reached home. Mrs. Jerry was sitting on the roof of their house.

"There is going to be a flood," said Jerry.

Mrs. Jerry grinned. "Not this year," said she.

"And it is going to be a great flood," said Jerry.

"Do tell," replied Mrs. Jerry.

"The water is now coming up the Laughing Brook as well as down the Laughing Brook," continued Jerry.

Mrs. Jerry hastily looked down the Laughing Brook. It did seem as if there was more water down there than there had been. She shrugged. "I berta. They had one son, Arthur. He served Overseas, and is now a school teacher in Alberta.

Another branch of this same family, descended from a brother of Peter, son of John, U.E., was that of W. H. Davy, general merchant and Forwarder, of Bath. He lived in the stone store now occupied by the Royal Bank. It was erected by the father of W. H. ~~W. H.~~ W. H. later went in partnership with Peterson to form the firm of Davy & Peterson. W. H., a cousin of Peter, had two children: Dearie, who married Hatson Rogers. Minerva, who married Benjamin Fairfield.

Still another family in this district, but not related to the above, was Albert W., who came to Bath from Oshawa. He was in the latter place a carpenter for the Grand Trunk R.R. He is buried in the United cemetery in Bath. Is the father of the present owner of the Davy farm, George, and of Mrs. W. H. Hall, of Bath.

P. When John Davy died land went to eldest sons nothing for the younger sons. His widow m. Capt Meyers and went to Belleville, lived in old Meyers home on the hill facing the River Morris.

Capt Meyers died and his widow got nothing but a farm in Sydney 2nd Conc, 9 miles from Belleville.

When Capt Meyers and Sophia Davy were married it was not performed by a Church of England Clergyman which was illegal and the widow did not inherit her third by law.

While great grandfather Peter Perry was in Parliament
he was greatly interested in the legalizing of such marriages.

The girls all married but the boys were homeless.

John Mayber had married Barbara Hufnagel, lived on 2nd Conc Sydney - the boys staid with him for some time.

Sophia Meyers gave her farm to Sophia Billings because she was poor. Ira Billings came from a fine family (in Ottawa) but tho' educated for a doctor drunk was his ruin. Sophia Meyers died on her Sydney farm, Swiced near Trenton about 1840.

Sabra Murphy established a business in Quid Wy. and taught Benjamin Davy the general store business. Benjamin Davy then returned to Canada and opened a store in Bath. He looked up the younger boys George and William and took them into his store.

Benjamin Davy m. Andrella Perry Jan 20 1834. In 1837 Benjamin left Wm in charge of the Bath Store and opened one in Napanee. He left George in charge of the Napanee store and went to Whitney and opened a wholesale and retail store, packed pork for Gilmores Camp on the Madawaska, and was also a heavy grain buyer and became the first major of Belleville. He died Mar 6 1860.

The Hupnagel family came from the Mohawk Valley but do not know if this was at same time as John Davy.
